COMMISSIONERS ASK STATE AID

Take Action at Weekly Session Looking toward Paving New Oxford Streets. Act Favorably on Town Council's Request

The county commissioners this morning took favorable action on a petition presented by Burgess Hummer, of New Oxford, asking them to join in a request to the State Highway Department for the construction of the Lincoln Highway through that town from the eastern to the western limit.

The commissioners signed the petition to the Highway Department asking for a State-aid road, in which the State would pay one half of the cost, the county one fourth and the borough of New Oxford one fourth. The road will cover a distance of about 4500 feet, and it is believed there will be no difficulty in securing the co-operation of the State to arrange for its construction. Some form of asphalt, macadam construction will likely be used and this link of the coast to coast highway will be placed in first class condition.

The visit of Burgess Hummer, of New Oxford, to the weekly meeting of the commissioners followed action taken some time ago by the town council of the borough, and it is understood that property holders and residents of the town generally are heartily in sympathy with the move to give the place first class streets.

During the nine months of the year "Lincoln Way East" and "Lincoln Way West", as the main streets of New Oxford are known, are traveled over by thousands of tourists on their way from Philadelphia, York and Lancaster to Gettysburg, or from western parts of this state or other sections to the eastern portions of Pennsylvania and New York.

With Gettysburg rebuilding Chambersburg street, the York pike between this place and New Oxford in first class condition, and improvements to the roads beyond New Oxford and west of Gettysburg, this section of the Lincoln Highway should be in most presentable shape by the end of another year.

BIG EARNINGS

Highly Gratifying Showings Again Made Public.

That the prediction of better days for the Western Maryland Railway which followed the assumption of direction of the system's affairs by President Carl R. Gray was not an idle boast, but the judgment of men who knew the caliber of Mr. Gray is indicated by the steady improvement of the position of the company.

Earnings for the first half of the current fiscal year are estimated at the rate of $10,700,000 annually, although indications point to a larger total than that for the full year by reason of the fact that the tremendous weekly increases in business did not put in an appearance until after the fiscal year had begun and these are constantly attaining larger proportions as the year advances.

The heaviest year's business ever reported by the Company was in the fiscal period ended June 30, 1915, when gross revenues were $8,531,458. The increase this year promises to be over $2,500,000.

The recovery in Western Maryland's business and financial position in recent months has been phenomenal. The improvement, in fact, dates from the time the management made the new arrangement with the Consolidation Coal Company for the movement of a large proportion of the output of that Company's mines now being opened up in the Fairmont and Somerset coal fields. The coal started to move under this new arrangement in October, and it is every day increasing in volume. Evidently it is expected the tonnage to be derived from this source will reach 5,000,000 tons annually.

WILL ORGANIZE CHURCH SURVEYS

Gettysburg Man Chosen to Represent this Part of the State in Country Wide Movement to Better Congregations.

Dr. W. A. Granville has been named as one of the committee who will organize a rural church survey in this State, with the idea in view of greater efficiency and better results. The appointment is made by the Commission on Church and Country Life which met in Columbus, Ohio, last week. Dr. Granville attended the meeting as a member of the executive committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

The Pennsylvania commission is composed of twenty nine prominent men. The movement probably will be started within a few months and completed in about a year, with the aid of a small army of volunteer workers, including churchmen and agriculturists. Present plans call for use of the survey as a basis for a future extensive campaign for church and country life improvement in the state. All work will be inter-denominational.

Each of the hundreds of volunteer workers who will be employed in such a survey as that contemplated in this state will ascertain facts about country churches within the township or locality assigned to him, such as these, for example: Membership; location; distance from another church; and nature of members (whether farm owners or tenants). These facts will be reported to a central office and assembled there.

The results shown then will be used as the basis for an educational campaign to make churches extend their functions to include some of these interests: Federation of several churches in each community, good roads, public health, better farming with special stress on agricultural college extension work, co-operation among farmers for buying, selling and producing, consolidated schools, public recreation and establishment of social and recreational centers at churches. Country preachers are to be urged to educate themselves more thoroughly in the practical interests and needs of a community, without sacrificing purely religious work.

Similar surveys are contemplated in most other states. Working plans are to be modeled after those used during the past year in Ohio, where the first state-wide scientific inquiry into country church conditions ever made in the United States is now being completed by a state association working under the supervision of the Commission on Church and Country Life. This commission is a subsidiary body of the Federal Council of Churches, an inter-denominational organization of heads of churches in the United States.

POULTRY MEN GOT THE LOW PRICES

This County at Bottom in Scale of Prices Realized for Fall Birds. Turkeys and Chickens Sold Better elsewhere.

Adams County farmers received the lowest prices recorded in the State for turkeys, sold for the holiday trade, according to this week's bulletin of the State Department of Agriculture.

During the recent holiday season when the demand for turkeys was greatest they sold in many places for as high as 45 cents a pound dressed, but the highest average obtained in any one county was in Lancaster where the price was 32 cents a pound. In Clearfield, Dauphin, Northampton and Schuylkill counties the average price was 31 cents while in Berks, Cumberland, Erie, Montgomery and Westmoreland 30 cents was secured. The low prices were established in Adams, Potter and Venango counties at 22 cents and in Fulton and Greene at 23 cents.

For live turkeys Schuylkill county carried off the high average price at 27 cents with Northampton next at 25 cents and Berks, Lancaster, Lehigh, Luzerne, Montgomery and Northumberland in line at 24 cents. The low price prevailed in Potter county at 13 cents and in Fulton, Green and Venango at 17 cents.

Twenty two cents a pound was the average price for dressed chickens in Beaver, Lawrence, Philadelphia, Washington and Westmoreland counties although Allegheny topped his average with 23 cents a pound. In Adams, Bradford, Fulton, Juniata, Potter and Venango 15 cents was the average. Live chickens brought 17 cents a pound in Philadelphia and 16 cents a pound in many other counties. Against this was the average price of 11 cents a pound in Adams, Bedford, Bradford, Clarion, Crawford, Fulton, Jefferson, Juniata, Potter and Venango counties.

The Weekly Press Bulletin of the Department makes this comment: "Price variations in many counties for the crops of the Pennsylvania farms make an interesting study. According to statistics prepared by the Department of Agriculture from the December reports of the 800 correspondents, the quality and quantity of the crops, accessibility of ample markets and the general demand of the community play a big part in the prices the farmer is able to obtain for the products of the farm."

RECEIVE HONORS

National Awards for Work in Local Camp Fires.

The Monocisee Camp Fire Girls have received the following national honors from Camp Fire Headquarters during the year of 1915: Miss Gilliland, Shuta, Wakan; Nellie Warner, Uta, Keda, Shuta, Wakan; Maybelle Lott, Keda; Mabel Galbraith, Keda; Edith Sheads, Uta, Keda.

The Uta honor is given for any effort, however humble, in fact it means effort. The Keda honor is given for work showing deep thought and excellence. It means to think hard. The Shuta honor is given for material which can be used in part or adapted for use in the national work or those showing especially fine Camp Fire spirit. The Shuta honor means to create.

The Wakan honor is given for articles or suggestions of excellent quality, which are acceptable for use in Whoelo or the Handbook. The Wakan honor means inspiration.

The Monocisee Camp Fire has also had its report for the year acknowledged and has received its seal for 1916.

TOWN EMPLOYEES GET MORE MONEY

Borough Council Raises Salaries All along the Line. George Hughes to be Sworn in as Police Officer.

The town council on Monday evening fixed the salaries of all the borough appointees, making an advance in every instance except the market master. The secretary's salary was raised from $100 to $150 a year; that of the treasurer from $75 to $125 a year; and that of the street commissioner from $40 to $50 a month. The police salaries were increased from $45 to $50 a month, with the understanding that there shall be no appropriations for uniforms. Chief Smiley was elected market master at a salary of $10 a month during the market season.

George Hughes was granted $15 monthly from the council in addition to the compensation he is now receiving from various merchants as night watchman. Council also authorized the Burgess to swear him in as a police officer.

Upon unanimous recommendation of the fire company, C. Ray Rupp was named fire marshal for the next two years.

The board of health asked and was granted an appropriation of $250 for the year's work. An ordinance covering quarantine matters, with special reference to efforts to avoid quarantine, was presented and tabled.

The committees as published in The Times on Saturday were formally announced.

C. E. Stahl Esq. appeared to urge the payment of something over $300 for stone used on Broadway more than originally estimated. Martin Winter has paid the bill for the stone and council took no action to reimburse him.

P. W. Stallsmith and another representative of the Travelers' Insurance Company presented the matter of compensation insurance before council and the property committee was authorized to contract for the protection. The policy will cover all borough employees and the annual premium is estimated to be about $69.00.

DEATH HALTS TWO PENSION CLAIMS

Mr. Lafean Laboring to Get Recognition for Veterans when Both Die. Would Have Battle Pawning Purchased.

Two residents of this district died last week while efforts were being made by Congressman Lafean to secure pensions for them.

In one case, that of Orlando Greenwood, the man's death occurred on the very day a special pension bill was introduced in his behalf by Congressman Lafean. The other for whom death ended a pension claim was John W. Webster. Mr. Lafean learned of his death last week scarcely more than an hour before the congressman was to have appeared before the invalid pension committee in Washington in his behalf. Both of the veterans were residents of York and had interested Mr. Lafean in their behalf.

Congressman Lafean has introduced in the House a bill providing for the purchase of an oil painting of the Battle of Gettysburg by James Walker, to be placed in the Lincoln memorial home at Washington, D. C. The bill was introduced in the Senate by Senator Fletcher of Florida. It is provided that the sum of $150,000 be appropriated for the purchase of the canvas from James Drummond Bell, its present owner.

GERMANS LAUNCH NEW OFFENSIVE

Capture French Positions on Champagne Line.

TAKE 423 MEN AND GUNS

Paris Claims Teutons Were Driven Out at Many Points by Counter Attack.

Berlin, Jan. 11.—An offensive movement has been started by the German forces in the Champagne.

Announcement was made by the war office that French positions extending over several hundred yards at a point northwest of Massiges had been captured by the Germans.

The conquered positions are near Maisons de Champagne. The Germans captured 423 prisoners, including seven officers; seven machine guns and one large and seven small mine throwers. A French counter attack made to the east of the positions taken by the Germans, failed.

A German air craft division attacked warehouses of the allies at Fursnes.

For Driven Out, Says Paris.

Paris, Jan. 11.—Heavy attacks were made by German troops in the Champagne, the war office announced.

The German attacks broke down with heavy losses, the statement says, and although they gained temporary foothold in a French position at various places, they were subsequently driven out everywhere, except from portions of two advanced trenches. The statement follows:

"In the Champagne the enemy developed the attack which he had prepared by a violent bombardment, notably with suffocating gas shells. During the day and throughout the night he attempted no less than four concentric actions on a front eight kilometers (five miles) long, running from La Courtaigne (the Curtain) to Mont Tatu (west and east of the Butte du Mesnil).

"Everywhere our fire stopped the adversary's forces and decimated his offensive operations. The enemy succeeded in gaining a foothold momentarily only at two points of our first line, to the northeast of the Butte du Mesnil and to the west of Mont Tatu. A vicious counter attack by our troops promptly drove him out. At the present hour he occupies only two small elements of advanced trenches."

Battle Resumed in Vosges.

London, Jan. 11.—The battle on the Vosges summits, centering about the much debated Hartmanns-Weilerskopf, has been resumed.

The French have been driven from the crest of Hirszteln, south of Hartmanns-Weilerskopf. Paris admits the loss, while Berlin, asserting that the Germans completed the reconquest of trenches near Hirszteln lost on December 21, says that twenty officers, 1083 chasseurs and fifteen machine guns were captured.

"After a series of fruitless attacks, followed by a violent bombardment, the Germans succeeded in taking possession of a little neck of land situated in the north of the summit of Hirszteln," says the French official statement. "Under these conditions, our troops occupying that summit withdrew. It has been established by reports received that our barrier fires, which were very precise, inflicted considerable losses on the enemy. The artillery struggle continues."

KAISER BACK AT WORK SOON

May Resume His Active Duties This Month.

Rome, Jan. 11.—The kaiser may be able to resume his duties this month or in early February, according to reports received here.

In a measure the latest word contradicts previous stories of the German ruler's condition, declaring that the operation on his throat was slight. Unless unexpected ill effects set in, it is said, the emperor will probably resume active duties in a few weeks.

Gore Bill Hits at Allies.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Resolution to make it a felony for any American to sell contraband to any signatory power to the declaration of London, which is interfering with American trade, and to make it a felony for banks to act as agents or make loans for any such power or ally was introduced by Senator Gore, of Oklahoma. He believes their passage would force recognition of the neutral trading rights of the United States.

Toronto Railroad Station Burns.

Toronto, Jan. 11.—Fire started in the Union station. Guests from adjoining hotels were taken to places of safety. The fire started in the front part of the structure, supposedly in one of the offices adjoining that of the passenger agent, and spread quickly across the halls until it embraced a large area.

Report Russians Lose 400 in Persia. Constantinople, Jan. 11.—A semi official announcement stated that Turkish and Persian cavalry had attacked and driven the Russian forces toward Meandab, killing 400 of the retreating enemy.

TEUTON LOSS 60,000 ON EASTERN FRONT

Austro-Germans Fall Back 30 Miles on 60-Mile Line.

Petrograd, Jan. 11.—In the two weeks' battle that culminated in the capture of Tchararysk and the driving of all Austro-German forces from the east bank of the Stropa river, the Teuton losses totalled at least 50,000 men, according to official estimates.

Official reports to the war office say the Russians have taken more than 20,000 prisoners and that twice that number of Austro-German soldiers have been killed or wounded.

The struggles for possession of Tebarotysk and Czernowitz continue with unabated ferocity over the Russian Christmas holidays. The efforts of the Germans to outflank the Russians at Baydn, on the frontier, east of Czernowitz, and thus relieve the pressure on the latter place has been checked by the Russians.

During their successful operations between the Sereth and Stropa rivers the Russians have advanced thirty miles along a front extending sixty miles. This was accomplished under severe weather conditions.

The Teuton positions on the west bank of the Stropa river are strongly fortified, but from the east bank the Russians, with their now plentiful supplies of ammunition, will be able to direct a devastating fire upon the enemy's trenches.

HOLD UP LINER WITH GUNS

Will Not Sail, Pending Result of Confernces at Washington.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The course the United States will pursue in the case of the Italian steamship Giuseppe Verdi, which arrived at New York last Thursday, with two three-inch guns mounted, will be determined after further conferences between Counsellor Polk, of the state department, and the Italian ambassador, Macchi di Cellere, the first of which was held recently. Meantime, the liner will be held at New York.

The position of the United States is said to be unchanged. It much prefers that passenger ships entering American ports mount no guns. This has been explained to the Italian ambassador.

Find Six Bodies in River.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 11.—Six bodies were recovered from the wreck of the Pittsburgh and Charleston packet Kanawha, which sank in the Ohio river last Wednesday night. Identification of five was made as Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hoblitzel and child, of Washington, and Mrs. E. C. Atkinson and Mrs. Ulysses Beegle, of Racine, Ohio. The sixth body was that of a woman.

Krupp's Damaged by Fire.

Amsterdam, Jan. 11.—According to the Frankfurter Zeitung, considerable damage has been done to the Krupp works at Essen by a fire on Saturday. The fire broke out in a shed used for models and spread to an adjoining building that contained the wheel work shops, both buildings being completely destroyed.

First "Uncle Tom" Is Dead.

New York, Jan. 11.—Samuel Lucas, who had played with the famous old Boston Museum Stock company and was said to be the first man to have played Uncle Tom in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," when that novel was dramatized in civil war days, died at his home here. He was seventy-five years old.

Airmen Bombard Sofia.

London, Jan. 11.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Salonika says a flotilla of French aeroplanes has dropped bombs on Sofia, causing considerable damage and an indescribable panic among the inhabitants of the Bulgarian capital.

HEAVY EXPLOSION IN POWDER PLANT

Detonation Near Wilmington Fell For Miles.

3 KILLED AT CARNEY'S POINT

Fatal Blast Was Distinctly Felt in Philadelphia—Had Three in Twenty-four Hours.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 11.—With a report that could be heard for many miles, a wheel mill of the Dupont Powder company, at Upper Hagley, three miles from here, along the Brandywine creek, blew up. No one was injured.

This was the second explosion at the same plant in one day. Earlier a rolling mill in the same place was destroyed by an explosion, but no one was injured. Both buildings were wrecked.

Hagley is one of the many places within a radius of five miles of Wilmington in which the Duponts have powder works. The explosion shook nearly every window and building in Wilmington, and was felt up at Chester and Marcus Hook. Persons ran into the street and many thought that the explosion was in the Carney Point plant where three men were killed Monday morning.

Owing to the fact that the explosion occurred just as the day and night shifts were changing, no one was in the wheel house when the second explosion occurred and no one was injured. The wheel house was a one-story frame structure in which are heavy rollers by which the powder is ground to the size desired. Nothing remains of the wheel house and pieces of the structure were blown several hundred feet away.

The explosion at the same plant earlier in the day destroyed the same kind of a structure and this building, too, was completely demolished and the site where the building stood there remains nothing but a large hole.

Three employees at the Carney Point (N. L.) plant of the Dupont Powder company, opposite Wilmington, were killed when a small frame building in which they were working was blown up with a force which rocked the country for miles around, and was distinctly felt in Philadelphia.

The explosion occurred in one of the glazing sheds where amokeless powder is coated with graphite. The cause has not been definitely learned, and Hollis E. Ashcraft, of Pennsgrove, corner, who is investigating, says it may never be known.

An official of the Dupont company, however, said it was likely that friction in one of the "sweetie" or glazing machines caused the explosion, but he explained that this was merely a theory.

The dead are: Richard J. Larney, Philadelphia; John ("Butch") Walsh, Nyack, N. Y.; and T. Clyde Winn, Pennsgrove, N. J.

Mr. Ashcraft said another employee was reported missing, but investigation revealed that he did not show up for work last night and so escaped.

A panic exists in the ranks of the workmen in the powder mills. It is said that after the explosion at the Carney's Point mill five hundred men quit their jobs, and that following the one at Hagley one hundred men quit there.

No doubt exists in the minds of officials of the company and county authorities that both explosions were accidental.

RAISE FOR STEEL WORKERS

Cambria Company Grants Ten Per Cent Advance to 9000.

Johnstown, Jan. 11.—The Cambria Steel company has announced a ten per cent increase in wages of all employees excepting those working on salary or tonnage, and affects about 9000 men.

The increase will add $600,000 to the annual payroll.

Pennsylvania Steel Raises Wages.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 11.—The Pennsylvania Steel company, on February 1, will give all classes of employees at Steelton an increase in wages amounting to ten per cent.

The raise will include the plants of the company at Lebanon. More than 3000 men are affected.

Buchanan Fails to Make Case.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The house judiciary committee gave Representative Buchanan, of Illinois, further time to present specific detailed charges against United States Attorney H. Snowden Marshall, of New York. After listening to Buchanan for two hours, the committee decided that it had not enough evidence to warrant proceedings with a formal impeachment investigation. Representative Buchanan asked for another opportunity to present his charges and time to consult with counsel and witnesses.

Wilson Declines Invitation.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM VICTORY ON TIGRIS

Enemy in Flight is Assertion at London.

Berlin, Jan. 11.—The British army at Kut-el-Amara, in Mesopotamia, has now been surrounded completely by the Turks, according to Constantinople advices given out by the Overseas News agency.

It is said the Turks have advanced to the main defenses of the British. The main British army in Mesopotamia, according to these advices, is in retreat, 10,000 men having been left in Kut-el-Amara to cover the movement.

Enemy in Flight, Says London.

London, Jan. 11.—The Turks in Mesopotamia were in full retreat on January 9, with the British pursuing them, it was announced in the house of commons by J. Austen Chamberlain, secretary for India.

There had been heavy fighting on both banks of the Tigris on January 7, Mr. Chamberlain's announcement stated, and the British had taken two Turkish guns and 700 prisoners.

Sir Percy Lake has been appointed to command the British forces in Mesopotamia in succession to General Sir John Charles Nixon, who has been compelled by illness to return home.

SILK HATTED CROOKS.

The Bad, Bold, Debonair Criminals Are a Class of the Past.

The silk hatted, bewhiskered, high class crook has shaken the New York dust off his spurs and disappeared. He is absolutely extinct. A modern criminal who can boast a good suit of clothes now is termed "Battles," or if he is suspected of wearing what some call a dress suit he is a "gentleman burglar." Usually he "Battles" a couple of times, making a few small cleanups, and is netted, arraigned and sent away to a place where he gets his hair cutting and clothes pressing done free.

There are plenty of free lunches of crime circulating around where legal tender or other valuables can be seized by a little exertion at some risk, but the old time bands of bold, bad, debonaire knights of dark deeds have faded away. There are plenty of men who skulk through what is vaguely termed "the underworld" and who take a desperate chance at impromptu crimes, robberies, holdups or sneak thief jobs, which suddenly come under their attention.

These men are not the same caliber as the big criminals of thirty years ago, although occasionally one of the modern specimens stumbles upon a rich haul. The police say up to date methods have driven them from the game. The green goods men and gold brick canvassers have followed the bison and the Indian over the last frontier as an organized criminal industry. The "wireless" wiretappers have been hunted down and out. The land has been dispersed to various iron barred havens of rest, leaving the country capitalist safe to wander through Manhattan without being tempted to play the races on some intercepted tip—New York Cor. Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Tale of Two Rivers.

The divide between the Hudson Bay and Mississippi river drainage basins shows the poor drainage of the glaciated prairies and the delicate balance between drainage systems. Though Shesenne and James rivers, the two principal streams of this region, flow in nearly parallel sources for 180 miles and the relief of the land between them is generally not more than twenty feet, yet the Shesenne ultimately discharges into Hudson bay and the James into the gulf of Mexico.

The Battle of a Week.

The battle of a week was the great conflict at Tours in which Charles Martel overthrew the Saracens, A. D. 732. The members of the Saracens army are variously estimated at from 400,000 to 700,000, and the historians say that 375,000 were killed on the field. It is suspected that these figures are a gross exaggeration, but it is certain that few battles of history have been either so bloody or so decisive.

A Sickly Diary.

"Look here, old chap; I'll give you a valuable tip," said the experienced married man to the prospective bridegroom. "Don't let your wife keep a diary on the honeymoon. My wife did that, and now whenever we quarrel she brings it out and reads some of the idiotic things I said to her then."

Different.

"They say marriage is a lottery," remarked the morose young man. "It isn't," replied Miss Cayenne. "In a lottery you can go on buying tickets."—Washington Star.

AMERICA WATCHES AS ENGLAND FACES CRISIS OVER CONSCRIPTION

Britain's Experience to Teach the World if Volunteer System Is Adequate in Case of War.

Colonel Roosevelt Favors Compulsory Service in This Country, but Secretary Garrison Is Dubious.

WITH England badly split over the question of conscription and the leading men of America discussing the best means of raising an army in case of war the question of compulsory military service is arousing keen interest all over the world.

England has demonstrated that the volunteer system in vogue in that country for so many years has been a failure in the present case. Every possible effort to avoid the drafting of men for service in the army was made before the question came before the cabinet in a formal resolution. Lord Derby, one of the most able men in the empire, asked that his plan be given a trial, which covered several months. It was well known that unless the results of the Derby campaign were satisfactory conscription would be the next step. For the period between Oct. 23 and Dec. 15 1,150,000 unmarried men and 1,670,263 married men presented themselves for service. Of the grand total of 2,820,263 married and single men 103,000 unmarried and 112,433 married men enlisted immediately.

Eight hundred and forty thousand single men and 1,344,970 married men were attested for future service.

Of the single men 207,000 were rejected, while 221,873 married men were not accepted by the recruiting officers.

2,182,178 Did Not Respond.

The Earl of Derby's report showed that the total men of military age in must pay his taxes, and that's all there is to it.

"No volunteer soldier is worth anything until he is trained. I was in the national guard three years and was no better than anybody else, and if I had been in a fight I would not have made a better fight than any of the members of the national guard at Santiago.

No More Money For Militia.

"We can't have a real national guard except under federal control. It must be made what its name implies—a national and not a state force."

Colonel Roosevelt added, according to report, that the government should appropriate no more money for the national guard until it was brought under federal control.

Speaking next of the Continental army advocated by Secretary Garrison Colonel Roosevelt, according to the reports, said:

"It is a fallacy, a makeshift and a useless rival of the national guard."

The colonel was then quoted as stressing the importance of the American defense society's emphasizing "service" in its policy and program. It was a pity, he was represented as saying, "to put a tag on experts of the army and navy who had received education qualifying them to give the public advice."

Concluding, Colonel Roosevelt spoke of the necessity for having "a unified America," saying that every one in this country should be a true American and should have left everything un-American behind him if he came from a foreign land.

Secretary Garrison's Plan.

The other day Secretary of War Garrison laid before the house military affairs committee the government's preparedness plans, providing for a great mobile army for the United States to reach a total of 1,000,000 men in six years.

"The plans also provide for the gathering together of huge stores of ammunition and army equipment and a well defined extension and elaboration of the existing coast defenses. The whole preparedness project will call for an increased expenditure of $200,000,000, with a successive war department budget of $200,000,000. Recent budgets have averaged $100,000,000."

"The integrity of the nation and its very existence," the secretary said, "reading from a lengthy statement he had prepared, 'may depend upon what is done in this matter at this time. This great opportunity will be lost unless a wise, sensible and practical policy is the result of the consideration and action of this congress.'"

Must Make Promises Good.

Referring to the far spread military responsibility of the nation, reaching into the insular possessions—the Philippines—Alaska and the Panama canal zone, Mr. Garrison added:

"We have determined and announced that the sovereignty of the other republics on this hemisphere shall remain inviolable and must therefore at all times stand ready to make good our position in this connection."

"If it will of necessity be conceded by any one who admits that military force is requisite at all that our present military force is totally inadequate to meet our responsibilities."

"The chaos, which a crisis always produces where preparations in advance have not been made, makes it certain that several months of necessity would intervene after the outbreak of war before any considerable number of volunteers would be ready to take their training, and months of training must then ensue before they could be ready to be sent into battle."

A similar delay would meet the effort to assemble arms, equipment and ammunition, Mr. Garrison said, and he insisted that if it accomplished nothing more the plan now proposed would oblige much of this loss of time.

"There is a disposition upon the part of some," he continued, "to assume that we are facing a crisis. The only way to meet any emergency is by adopting emergency measures. The personnel and material needed for military purposes should be immediately mobilized. Every nerve should be strained and every resource drawn upon and nothing overlooked necessary to preserve and defend us, regardless of cost and other considerations.

Calls For Permanent Policy.

"In my view the occasion calls for the adoption of a wise, sensible, adequate military policy on permanent lines and for definite ends."

"There is common agreement among those who have studied the subject intelligently that we should have a force in the continental United States of 500,000 men subject to instant call."

Turning to the national guard, Mr. Garrison said:

"At the present time this force consists of approximately 120,000 men and officers, and it would therefore be necessary if it is to be expanded to 400,000 to add 270,000 men and officers."

Because of constitutional obstacles Mr. Garrison doubts the power of congress to enforce recruiting in the militia in the several states.

"Assuming that congress has the power," the secretary continued, "I do not see how it could make it effective. In any event there would have to be not only acts of congress, but identical contemporaneous legislation in the forty-eight states, to make effective such acts of congress. It seems to me that a mere statement of this situation indicates how utterly futile it is to attempt this solution."

Declaring that there must be unity of responsibility and authority and control in any successful military system, Mr. Garrison made it plain to the committee that he favors a complete federalization of the militia if that force is to be an effective arm of the national defense. The secretary said that in the past states have prevented their troops from responding to the call of the national government; they have even ordered their disbandment to thwart the federal government.

Finally, however, the secretary declared, "if congress prefers the method of direct federal pay it is not a matter in which I have any individual judgment upon which I care to insist."

SECRETARY GARRISON.

Swiss System Unadaptable.

Dismissing the so called Swiss and Australian systems of national military service as not adapted for this country in the absence of national control of the public school system, Mr. Garrison said main reliance must be placed upon a standing army, augmented by a Continental army reserve of civilian volunteers, and finally of the national militia. Mr. Garrison then detailed to the committee his plans for the organization of these several units, which already have been made public.

"A small, highly trained, highly effective regular army, expensible in character; federal volunteers, raised, officered and trained in time of peace, and the national guard for state uses is the best solution," the secretary said in conclusion.

Of course the German system of recruiting men for the army is well known. Every citizen of that country must serve in the regular army for a term of years and in case of war is absolutely under the orders of his government. The same is true in France, and all men of military age in those two countries are now in the service of their countries. China also started the year 1916 by ordering compulsory military service. It will first be put into effect in Chili province, in which Peking is located, and Shantung province, which adjoins Chili province.

KEEP OYSTERS BY FREEZING.

Experiments Show Fish Alive After Six Weeks.

Preserving shell oysters in cold storage has been successfully tried by Captain Frederick Ockers of West Sayville, N. J.

"I am convinced that frozen oysters will live for a great length of time," he says. "They will practically be in a state of suspended animation and can be kept until wanted. Then they may be gradually thawed back to life."

Captain Ockers' idea is that during suspended animation their condition will be similar to that of the frog frozen in a cake of ice. Captain Ockers believes that oysters can be put into the freezer in April or any other time when they are in prime condition and held for a favorable market. He has made successful experiments up to six weeks and believes that if an oyster can be frozen for six weeks and still live the process may be extended indefinitely.

WAR'S EFFECT ON POLITICS HERE

Republicans Assert It Is Responsible For Prosperity.

DEMOCRATS ENTER DENIAL.

Aver That the Struggle Has Prevented Their Policies From Having a Full and Fair Trial and That It Is the Cause of Additional Taxes—War Debates Nonpartisan.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 11.—[Special.]—It will be impossible to keep the European war out of the politics of the coming presidential campaign.

There has been a persistent claim by the Republicans that but for the war Democratic economic policies would have been a failure and that hard times and paucity conditions would now prevail throughout the country.

The Democrats insist that the changed conditions brought about by the war have caused the laying of additional taxes and otherwise prevented the Democratic policies from having a full and fair trial.

While an attempt has been made to keep the politics of the war confined to business and economic subjects, it is evident that before the session progresses far there will be discussions tending to show politics in the government's attitude toward the different nations at war.

A Reasonable Suggestion.

The first debate on the war situation in the senate was not partisan, and party lines were not drawn in the attitude of senators regarding the conduct of the United States. Perhaps it was because the cause of the discussion was the proffered suggestion that American citizens avoid traveling on ships of belligerent nations and thus avert the danger of involving the United States in the great European war. Of course there were plenty of men to insist upon the right of American citizens to go anywhere under the ordinary rules of international law, but those men shut their eyes to the fact that both sides have ignored international law. It was asserted that it was just as fair to warn our people to keep off such ships as to warn them to keep out of Mexico and that the courage and rights of the nation would not suffer in one case more than in the other.

Pro-Allies Sentiment.

There is little doubt that just at present the belief obtains that the country is for the allies and against Germany. The men who are to go before the people this year indicated a sympathy for the allies, while men who are not candidates were inclined to a broader neutrality. There was one notable exception. Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska is positive and outspoken in favor of stopping the shipment of arms and munitions to belligerents. The otherwise says such stoppage would be an act of unneutrality in favor of Germany.

Missouri Politics.

Champ Clark told the Democratic national committee that St. Louis should have the Democratic national convention because the state was in danger of being carried by the Republicans. In refusing to be a candidate for governor he says that any good Democrat can be elected.

Governor Hadley of Missouri has determined to be a presidential candidate on the Republican ticket. That will probably open the way for Walter S. Dickey to be the Republican nominee for senator. If the Republicans get a good man for governor they will make an interesting race in Missouri.

Making a Fight.

While it has been a foregone conclusion that military preparedness in some form would win in the present congress, it is evident that the opponents of the plan are going to put up a vigorous fight. Speeches delivered in the house and others printed in the Record give every indication that there is real opposition to the military plans made by the administration. One of the interesting talks was by General Isaac Sherwood, a veteran of the civil war, who insisted that as long as the United States wanted to keep out of the war there was no danger of its getting into war. He says that he has not received a single request from the people of his district to vote for military preparedness.

Could Do Better.

Meyer London, the New York Socialist, made a short speech in the house and floundered a little. "I am making this short talk to explain my vote," he said. "I can do a great deal better than I am doing now." And when the house laughed he added, "And I promise the house at some future time to be a great deal better."

All Were "New."

Congressman Hilliard of Colorado in making a speech in the house apologized for breaking in when he was a new member. Then he had an idea. "The Sixty-fourth is a new congress," he said, "and all are virtually new members." While he was literally right, service and seniority have always been recognized.

Although a Democrat, Hilliard opposed the extension of the war emergency tax. "If congress was composed entirely of new members this extension would not pass," was one of his assertions.

NEW OXFORD

New Oxford—Sunday afternoon the chimney at the home of John Duttra caught fire and the blaze was extinguished by Mr. Duttra, with the assistance of his neighbors. In the evening, a log at the bottom of the same chimney was discovered to be on fire. Several firemen responded to a silent alarm and succeeded in putting out the blaze with the use of chemicals. In order to get at the burning log a lot of brick had to be removed from the wall.

LITTLETOWN

Littlestown—The Littlestown Fish Protective Association received, last week, another can of bluegill fish from the Torresdale Hatchery. This makes 1400 placed in the ponds and streams this winter.

Miss Mabel Gettler left Saturday morning for Scarsdale, N. Y., to spend some time with the family of her sister, Mrs. Benjamin Van Doren, and other relatives in New York City.

Mrs. John N. Starr, of near Middleburg, Md., spent the week-end with her sisters, Mrs. Edith Gilbert and Miss Emma Blocher.

Mrs. Harry Stauffer, of Harover, visited the family of her sister, Mrs. Charles L. Blocher, on Sunday.

Mrs. George Welsh and son, Joseph Welsh, of York, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Henrietta Yount.

The union services, which have been in progress in the various churches of Littlestown for the past week, will be continued until Thursday evening of this week. The services have been largely attended and much interest has been manifested.

Mrs. Annie Slagenhaupt was taken to the West Side Sanitarium, at York, Friday evening, by her physician, Dr. H. S. Crouse, and was operated upon Saturday morning.

BUYING A HAT IN HAWAII.

It Cost More to Find the Article Than It Did to Purchase It.

In his eagerness to see a whale during the voyage between Honolulu and the island of Hawaii, Homer Crox who tells about his adventure in Travel, leaned too far over the rail and lost his hat.

After arriving at the island he climbed into a taxicab and told the driver to take him to a hat store. "Do you understand?" he asked. "A hat store."

"Yes, for sure, all right," the Japanese chauffeur answered.

They went bumping up the street, swung wildly round a corner and finally, at the far side of the town, drew up to the curb. In the window of the store was a bedstead, on which hung the sign, "This Week Cheap."

"What do you mean by taking me to a furniture store?" Mr. Crox demanded. "Dis Hata store," replied the Japanese driver, and he pointed to the name of the proprietor, "K. Hata."

"I want a hat, not a bed," Mr. Crox said, with feeling. "I want it for this," pointing to his bare head.

"Yes, for sure, all right."

With that the cab whirled down the street and away to the other side of the town, while the taxi bill was merely running up. This time it stopped before a barber shop.

"No; I don't want anything taken off my head. I want something put on it," declared Mr. Crox, who was now quite irritated.

"Yes, for sure. I understand all right," replied the chauffeur, with a grin.

They went clattering just as far to the other side of the town as they could and drew up before a store that as an afterthought apparently carried a line of hats. Mr. Crox had to pay twice the price of a hat on the way to buy it, but this did not seem to worry the driver, who, after the manner of automobile drivers, stood up under it bravely.

CLAIMED THE SHIP

Maro Thought He Was Eligible to Command a Cruiser.

AN OLD TIME NAVAL PRANK.

The Shabby Trick That Was Played Upon a Patriotic Greek Boilermaker by Some of Uncle Sam's Sailors With Whom He Had Shipped.

"A number of years ago the cruiser on which I was serving shipped a boilermaker while we were on the Mediterranean station," said a retired petty officer of the navy. "Our former boilermaker's time expired while we were at Gibraltar, and as he was not in good physical shape he wasn't re-enlisted, but took his discharge and returned to the United States by mail steamer. So the ship was shy a boilermaker, a very important and necessary petty officer down below in the engineer's department, and when the ship pulled into Naples harbor the chief engineer went ashore to see if he couldn't dig up a boilermaker.

"There was a clause in the enlistment regulations permitting commanding officers to ship necessary men on foreign stations in short handed emergencies. The chief engineer brought back to the ship a Greek named Charlie Maro. The man couldn't speak any English to speak of, but he was a good man at the boilermaking business, and he was duly shipped aboard of us for three years. He was a wild, hairy looking lot, Maro was, and he got a good deal of a laugh at the hands of the crew, especially the younger fellows, from the time he first came over the side.

"Maro thought that there wasn't any other country on the map except Greece, and after he got hold of enough English to make himself understood he used to take some of the young apprentices up into the eyes of the ship and tell them, with many jestulations and furious words, of the different kinds of war Greece could knock out of Turkey.

"The ship was around on the Pacific station when the war broke out between Greece and Turkey. When the news of the outbreak of the war got to Maro, our boilermaker, he nearly had heart disease and a whole lot of other sudden things from pure excitement. He just couldn't hold himself in, he looked so tickled.

"Da Greek man willa him, him, him, da 'Turka man," was Charlie Maro's way of putting it, and he didn't see that the Turk had a ghost of a show. All hands forward encouraged him in the belief. They all acquiesced in expressing the belief to Maro that Greece would simply eat Turkey up. Then a lookout's mate who knew how to crack the most impossible jokes with a face as solemn and wooden as an Indian's took Charlie in hand and told him some things. He told Maro that the United States was so much in sympathy with Greece in the struggle with Turkey that the navy department had decided to turn over all of the ships of the American navy to Greek commanders.

"Here's a chance for you, Maro," the lookout's mate told Maro. "You just want to ship your edge. Here you are already worked on this cruiser, and it's dollars to doughnuts that if you ask for the command of this ship in order to take her over to Greece to mix it up with the Turks you'll get it hands down. Better try it on."

"That idea impressed Maro a heap. He asked the lookout's mate whom he'd have to apply to to get command of the cruiser.

"Why, to the commanding officer, of course," was the reply.

Maro was tremendously important for a day or so while he let this huge idea grow within him, and he bullied the men detailed to work with him down below in the boiler room a good deal. The lookout's mate kept working him up to it, and finally Maro appeared on deck one morning togged out in his very best mustering suit of blue jacket clothes and went up to the officer of the deck and asked permission to see the commanding officer at the mast. The officer of the deck was rather surprised to see the man all done up in his mustering togs when all hands were at work; but, as he is obliged to do when an enlisted man requests permission to see the commanding officer, he sent word to the skipper, who soon emerged from his cabin and appeared at the stick.

"Well, my man?" said the skipper to Maro, who stood bolt upright and sagged with a flourish.

"Sare," said Maro to the skipper, "I hava da honor to her-a-by taka da command of a da ship."

"Hey?" said the commanding officer, putting his hand to his ear and looking as if he hadn't heard aright.

"Da ship," repeated Maro. "For a da navee of a Hellas—de Greece navee—I hava da honor to taka da command."

"All hands among the enlisted men were up on the to gallant fo'c'sle taking the thing in, and they broke into a roar that you could have heard five cable lengths distance. Maro heard it and, suspecting that his confidence had been abused, got red and flustered. He suddenly bolted for the engine room hatch and made his way below, and it took three minutes to drag him off to the sick bay, where the surgeon, at the skipper's command, gave Maro a half-hour's examination as to his sanity. Maro was sane enough to decline to give the name of the enlisted man who had told him he was eligible for the command of the ship upon its being turned into the navy of Greece," but the flustering he gave that lookout's mate when he got him on the beach was certainly savage."

AN APPETIZER WORTH WHILE.
A cold cooked beet or a hard boiled egg when minced very fine and added to a French salad dressing will give quite a "company look" to an otherwise plain salad, while a bit of cottage cheese and a minced olive or two, together with a "left over" saladine, the whole moistened with mayonnaise and spread on round biscuits or bits of toasted bread, make an appetizer worthy of 1916.

Sardines In Aspic.—A small bread pan is a good mold for this dish. Set in a pan of cracked ice and water, pour in liquid aspic to form a thin layer and upon this lay a row of sardines, each in a bed of finely chopped parsley. Fix each in place with a few drops of liquid jelly, then cover with jelly, and when this is firm arrange upon it another row of sardines and cover with jelly as before.

Tomato Jelly.—Three-quarters box of gelatin (scant), three-quarters cupful cold water, a can tomatoes, one-half onion, stalk celery, two tablespoonfuls tarragon vinegar, two cloves, a bay leaf, few grains cayenne. Soften the gelatin five minutes in cold water. Cook together the other ingredients, except the vinegar, ten minutes, add the vinegar and softened gelatin and stir until dissolved, then strain. Pour into a mold and set in a cool place of ice to form. When cold turn from the mold, garnish with crisp lettuce leaves and pour mayonnaise dressing over the whole.

Cheese Rolls.—A most delicious surprise in the place of sandwiches to serve with coffee or chocolate is made with the aid of whipped cream and cheese. Make some light tender, raisin rolls, shaped long and narrow. When they are cold cut off the tops of the rolls and remove some of the center. Just before serving take a small jar of cheese and cream it with a quarter as much butter and fold into a half cupful of cream whipped stiff. Fill the rolls and replace the covers.

Cheese Fondue.—Needed, one-quarter pound of grated cheese, two eggs, quarter pint white sauce, pepper, salt and mustard.

To make prepare the sauce, add the cheese and yolks of the eggs, also the seasonings. Beat the whites stiffly and stir gently into the mixture. Place in a well buttered pie dish and bake for fifteen minutes.

A Glorious Evening Gown.

Pale pink chiffon and lace are combined in this gown, which has a bodice of satin.

There is nothing more delectable than the new evening gowns, an example of which is shown in the accompanying illustration. The frock is carried out in pale pink chiffon combined with handsome white lace, and the bodice is of pink satin. In medium size the costume requires 5 yards 40-inch chiffon, 2 yards 35-inch satin, 3 yards lace floating 18 inches deep and 3/4 yard lace 7 inches wide for the bodice. If a satin foundation is used about 4 1/2 yards 35-inch material will be needed.

The home dressmaker will find it worth her efforts to make the waist, for it can be used separately with dress skirts. Beginning with the underbody first the underarm and shoulder seams are closed as notched. Hem the back.

KEEPING TABS ON THE CARELESS

Carelessness usually brings its own punishment. At the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium they have devised a method of keeping tabs on careless patients, for here carelessness may endanger the health of some fellow patient or some member of the staff of doctors and nurses.

Each patient is provided with paper napkins and sputum cups and forbidden to expectorate without making use of one or the other. They are then required to deposit these in regular containers in order that they may be burned.

To make sure that this provision is carried out, every patient is given a number on admission, and then all paper napkins and sputum cups supplied to each patient are punched with the number assigned, then if they are found scattered about the grounds or cottages there is no difficulty in detecting who has been guilty of carelessness.

People who are not familiar with sanatorium life often think that the uninfected are endangering their health by working about or even visiting a tuberculosis sanatorium. Such is not the case; owing to the care which the patients are required to take and the training which they receive in observing habits of personal hygiene, in the opinion of Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon, there is far less danger of contracting the disease at a sanatorium than there would be in an ordinary department store. There is no record of any nurses or physicians employed at the State Sanatoria having ever contracted tuberculosis.

Look High and Avoid Snarers.

Why, it is asked, are there so many snarers? That we may not fly low, but may seek the things which are above. For just as birds, so long as they cleave the upper air, are not easily caught, so thou also, so long as thou lookest at things above, wilt not easily be captured, whether by a snare or by any other device of evil.—St. John Chrysostom.

Common Case.

"I wouldn't go out at the end of every act, my boy. Beasley had form." "I don't go out to drink. I telephone home and get bulletins from the maid about the condition of the pan under the box. My wife can't enjoy the opera unless she knows there is no danger of that pan running over."

BUY 1,500 MILES OF PIPE.

Allies to Use It to Bring Water to Camps in Egypt.

Fifteen hundred miles of iron piping to be used by the allies for water distribution to their camps in Egypt has left Baltimore for Alexandria. The British steamers Shadwell and Oceana carry the shipment, which is said to be the largest of its kind ever sent out of the United States.

Outside the three mile limit the two steamers were met by a convoy of allied warships big enough, it was said, to put beyond possibility any disaster to the cargo.

The shipment is said to be worth $750,000.

Retail Druggists of Gettysburg

Soon to Receive New Medicine

An "External" Vapor Treatment That Relieves Colds Over Night, Croup in Fifteen Minutes. Coupon Below Good at Your Druggist for a 25c Package Free.

Nothing to Swallow. Comes in the Form of a Salve, and is Vaporized by the Body Heat When Applied Over the Throat and Chest.

Gettysburg people, especially mothers with small children, will be glad to know that the "outside" treatment for cold troubles—Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve—that has made such a success in the South, will shortly be introduced here. Arrangements are being made for a number of the leading druggists to give away packages free. If your druggist is one of these the coupon below will entitle you to a 25c size jar free.

This treatment is entirely different from the usual "Internal" medicines, which disturb the digestion and are especially injurious to the delicate stomachs of children. It comes in salve form and has a two-fold action. For cold troubles you just rub it well over the throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. The body heat releases vapors of Menthol and Camphor, Eucalyptol, Thyme, Cubeb and Juniper. These vapors are inhaled all night long, with each breath, loosening the phlegm and opening the air passages. Externally, Vap-O-Rub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, aiding the vapors inhaled to relieve the congestion.

Vap-O-Rub will be found remarkably effective for head colds, asthmatic and catarrhal troubles, as well as for deep chest colds, sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis or incipient pneumonia. Its use is particularly recommended for mothers with small children, as it is entirely external, and can be used with perfect safety, on the youngest member of the family.

None of the druggists have as yet received their shipments, but as the free supply is limited, it is advisable to present your coupon at once.

WISE LOVER AND WILLFUL MAID

Story of an Elopement and
What Came of It.

John Thompson was twenty-one and old for his age. The only thing youthful about him was his love for Anita Merriweather, who was but seventeen and young for that tender age. Anita's parents had reluctantly consented to an engagement, fearing that their daughter might change her mind before reaching a marriageable age or later on find herself tied to a man whom she would not choose at maturity. But Anita regarded herself already as at a marriageable age and saw no possibility of ever changing her mind. She wished to be married at once, instead of waiting two years, the period insisted on by her parents.

"Johnny," she said one day, "I wish you had more spirit."

"What do you mean, sweetheart?" asked John, surprised.

"I think you submit very tamely to all these requirements and conditions laid down for us by papa and mamma."

"I don't know of but one—the waiting till you are nineteen."

"Isn't that enough? But I suppose it doesn't seem very long to you."

"I don't permit myself to think of it. I try to keep my mind on my daily work. This will the better enable me to take care of you when I get you."

"What a humdrum sort of fellow you are! I like a man who resents having others stand in the way of his desires, especially in love."

"Very well," he said after discovering that a willful woman must have her own way. "What do you propose?"

"I suppose we'll have to run away." "I don't think we'll have to run very fast."

"Indeed we shall. If papa should get wind of our going, he would follow us furiously."

"I doubt it. He has no objection to me. He only wishes us to wait till you are sure of your own mind."

The upshot of it all was that a few days later John stopped at the door of the Merriweathers' with his automobile. Anita got in, and they rolled away. They had taken many an afternoon ride together, and there was not the occasion to ask permission nor to put on any considerable power. Anita's mood, however, was not in keeping with their quietest conditions. She either clutched John's arm as though for protection or drew away from him as though he was dragging her into it. John, when he had got beyond the town limits, put on a fair speed. For the first time since the elopement, if it could be called such, had been mentioned Anita's thoughts appeared to be turned from her own desires to what ever of pain she might be inflicting upon her parents.

"I wonder how mother will take it," she said.

"Don't know," was John's reply. "I've always been papa's especial pet. It's hard to do anything to hurt him."

"I suppose he'll have to stand it." "You're very unfeeling."

"Unfeeling, sweetheart! It isn't that. We must face boldly the conditions we take upon ourselves."

There was a pause, after which she began again. "Mother's health hasn't been of the best for the past few months. I hope it won't break her down."

John made no comment on this. They were jogging along steadily. She was so absorbed with her thoughts that she paid no attention to the route they were taking.

"I don't know," she went on, "what I'm going to do without papa's kiss every night and morning."

"I'll give you two," said John, "in stead of one."

"H'm!"

They were approaching a house. John guided the automobile in to the side walk and stopped.

"What's this?" exclaimed the would be bride in terror.

"Clergyman."

"That horrid Mr. Parker? I don't want to be married by him. Go on, quick."

John pushed on. Anita leaned back on the leather cushion and as a protection against wind and dust drew a veil over her face. The machine chugged, the sun shone down softly, the birds were singing in the trees beside the road. John heard a sob. Then Anita took out her pocket handkerchief, man aged to get it under her veil and covered her eyes with it. If John had been driving a horse instead of an automobile he would have put an arm about her to comfort her, but his machine needed both hands. Anita maintained her position. She kept her handkerchief over her eyes and occasionally gave an audible sob. John maintained silence. Being old for his age, he knew that anything he could say would be of no avail and would increase the trouble. He was a man of deeds rather than words. But he could not help thinking that it was not a cheerful wedding party.

Time and the automobile rolled on. Presently the latter came to a stop.

"We're there," said John.

Anita did not move.

"Will you get out?" he asked.

Anita shuddered, took her handkerchief from her eyes and looked about her. She was at her own front door.

Without a word she stepped down on to the sidewalk and, not deigning to notice her lover, went into the house. The elopement was over, and no evil consequences.

SHIPYARDS BUSY WITH NEW ORDERS

America Sees Tenfold Increase
In Eighteen Months.

OLD PLANTS ARE REOPENED

Tonnage of 761,511, Now Being Constructed, Greater Than That of Any Previous Year—All of the Factories Have Work Ahead That Will Keep Them Busy For Months.

Shipbuilding plants in the United States are working to their full capacity, but can increase their output from 15 to 60 per cent within a year, according to reports received by the New York chamber of commerce from thirty or more yards.

Already the tonnage under order or construction is double the aggregate tonnage for any year within the last ten.

The inquiry was made of the shipbuilding companies in view of the efforts now being made to enlarge the mercantile marine under American registry. According to one of the most prominent shipbuilders, the amount of ocean going merchant tonnage now building in the United States for American registry has increased tenfold since July 1, 1914.

Increase Since July.

"Since July 1 of the past year there has been a marked increase in the construction activities in most of the large plants in all the leading shipbuilding districts of the United States," says the statement issued by the chamber of commerce. "At one of the leading New England plants they have a construction capacity of the value of $10,000,000 a year and work on hand for fifteen months from Dec. 1."

"Of this amount 50 per cent is government work, the other 50 per cent being merchant tonnage. This firm could make a very considerable expansion if demands justified it. Another typical New England plant with a capacity of $1,500,000 of output a year has twelve months' work on its books. Another New England industry is engaged wholly in engine building for submarines."

"In the Delaware and Chesapeake sections orders are large. Fully a hundred craft of various kinds, including a larger proportion of ocean going vessels than usual, are being constructed in this group of yards. On the Delaware eighty-two vessels were being built with an aggregate of 382,000 tons, valued at $58,000,000 and employing not less than 20,000 men."

"A single plant there, whose merchant shipping capacity in recent years ranged from 40,000 to 50,000 tons, reports its capacity now as 112,000 dead weight tons per year."

"This plant is capable of turning out sixteen vessels of 7,000 tons each per year and on Nov. 24 had orders on hand for two years."

"Another company, with a capacity of 45,000 tons, is booked up for eight months, working entirely on merchant ships. A company in this district which on July 1 had but one ship on its ways now has sixteen under construction or ordered."

"The capacity of the country to produce merchant shipping has been increased by the reopening of some of the older plants."

"According to information supplied by the secretary of commerce, the tonnage contracted for up to Dec. 1 aggregates 761,511 gross tons. Of this tonnage thirteen ships are of 10,000 tons or more, twenty are from 7,000 to 10,000 tons, thirty-six from 5,000 to 7,000 tons, ten from 4,000 to 5,000 tons and nineteen from 3,000 to 4,000. Of the ninety-eight vessels fifty-two were contracted for since July 1. The total tonnage, 761,511, is greater than was ever built in the shipyards of the United States in any single calendar year."

69 LYNCHINGS LAST YEAR.

Record of Deaths at Hands of Mob Exceeds That of 1914 by Seventeen.

Monroe N. Work, head of the department of records and research of Tuskegee institute, in his annual report shows that during the year 1915 there have occurred sixty-nine lynchings.

Of those lynched fifty-five were negroes and fourteen whites. This is six more negroes and eleven more whites than were put to death by mobs in 1914, when the record was forty-nine negroes and three whites. Included in the record are three women. In at least four instances it later developed that the persons put to death were innocent of the offenses charged.

Eighteen, or more than one-fourth of the total lynchings, occurred in the state of Georgia.

Only eleven—ten negroes and one white—or 15 per cent of the total, were charged with rape.

Lynchings occurred in the following states: Alabama, 9; Arkansas, 5; Florida, 5; Georgia, 18; Illinois, 1; Kentucky, 5; Louisiana, 2; Mississippi, 9; Missouri, 2; Ohio, 1; Oklahoma, 3; South Carolina, 1; Tennessee, 2; Texas, 5; Virginia, 1.

Fire Losses in 1915.

Fire losses of 1915 in the United States and Canada, according to figures compiled by the New York Journal of Commerce, aggregated $182,585,290, compared with $235,591,390 in 1914, a decrease of $52,755,100. The total loss in 1915 was the smallest since 1905, when the figures were $175,193,800.

FREE BANKER OF LIBEL CHARGE

Littlestown Man not Guilty but Must Share in Payment of Costs. Case Grows out of Writing on Check.

Paul G. Hartman, formerly of Littlestown, but now cashier of the First National Bank, Honey Brook, has been acquitted by the Court of Quarter Sessions in Lancaster on a charge of libel. He was directed to pay part of the costs, however.

The case was the outcome of a settlement made to Mrs. Kate Witman, who claimed that she had deposited $100 in the bank for which she had never received credit and that the money was given to G. L. Ramsay, who was at that time assistant cashier, but is now deceased. Mr. Hartman was not connected with the bank at that time.

In paying her claim, to which Mr. Hartman objected but was overruled by his board, Mr. Hartman wrote on the check what the claim was supposed to pay so that there would be no question about a receipt in full. When this inscription, which read "paid in full for embezzlement held against Ramsay," became known, the matter was taken up by the widow and action brought.

Among the many witnesses who testified to the unimpeachable character of Mr. Hartman, were Messrs. Charles H. Basehoar and S. D. Mehring, of Littlestown.

The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" and placed part of the costs on the defendant.

It appears that before Mr. Hartman went to Honey Brook the deceased Ramsey had been tried in the Philadelphia courts on a charge of embezzlement, but was acquitted.

FIRST CLASS

European Magicians Delight Audience with Remarkable Program.

It is difficult to give space to the LeRoy, Talma, and Bosco entertainment of Thursday evening without being coming extravagant. Gettysburg has never witnessed in past years—and will likely never see again in the future—as high class an attraction of this kind produced.

The trio and their assistants are top-liners in their profession and the fact that they came to a town this small was for the reason that they had an open date and no other nearby place was available. To-day they left for a two day stand at Cumberland and will play all next week in Pittsburgh.

One after another the disappearing tricks followed each other in rapid succession, the way members of the troupe would suddenly vanish time and again from before the very eyes of the audience having them completely bewildered before the evening was well on its way. The Hindu rope trick in which a man fifteen feet from the floor suddenly disappeared; the vanishing of a whole flock of geese only to re-appear in the very front of the stage out of a tub of water; the ghost illusion in which two of the principals were substituted for "spirits" while the audience—unseeing—looked on, were most notable.

As a fitting close to the performance, the scene in the court of Nero was enacted. During its progress one live man was "beheaded", another "burned to death"; while the heroine was thrown to a real live roaring lion, which vanished as the audience sat spellbound and she, unharmed, walked out of the cage.

A few simple tricks were used to lighten the program, which eclipsed anything ever produced here.

ALL WELL ATTENDED

Entertainments, in Every Instance, Drew Good Audiences.

While several hundred persons were enjoying the show in Walter's Theatre or tripping the light fantastic in Xavier Hall Thursday evening, as many more sought their pleasure and entertainment at St. James Church and Brua Chapel. The Kipling program at the former place brought the largest audience since the organization of the literary circle, several hundred persons being present. Prof. Wing's lecture in Brua Chapel drew the best audience of this year's course and he gave a most thorough discussion of his subject, "Some Engineering Problems of Our Navy."

PROMINENT MEN FOR CONVENTION

President Sparks of State College will Speak in Adams County Court House Next Week. Other Educators also.

County Superintendent H. Milton Roth has secured three prominent educators for the annual meeting of the School Directors Association of Adams County in Gettysburg on Thursday and Friday, February 17 and 18. He is communicating with several others and expects to close with them in a few days.

The three men already secured are Millard King, head of the department of industrial education of the State Board of Public Instruction; H. W. Fought, assistant to the United States Commissioner of Education; and President Edwin E. Sparks, of Pennsylvania State College.

Mr. King will speak Thursday afternoon, explaining the plans for continuation schools, and the child labor act. Mr. Fought is head of the department of rural educational work and recently returned from Denmark where he was sent to study the schools of that country. He will speak Thursday morning and afternoon on "Rural Education" and Thursday evening will give an illustrated lecture on "The Schools of Denmark." The same evening Dr. Sparks will deliver his lecture on "The Great Crucible."

There will be no admission charged to any of the sessions, day or evening, but a collection will be taken Thursday evening to contribute to the prize fund for the Boys' and Girls' Agricultural and Domestic Science Leagues.

Prof. Roth is not yet prepared to announce the program for Friday but it will be fully as interesting as that now arranged for Thursday. Friday evening the speakers at the convention will address the monthly meeting of the Parent Teachers' Association in the High School building.

Saturday will witness the annual mid-winter rally of the teachers of the county in the High School building. The convention speakers of Friday will address the teachers of the county at both the morning and afternoon sessions and it is expected that there will be a large attendance. All the teachers are invited to be present.

ONLY SIX TEAMS

Old Clubs Balk on Guaranteeing Any Sunday Games.

The long argument about the admission of two other teams to the Blue Ridge League came to a close Thursday afternoon in Hagerstown when representatives of the towns in last year's circuit refused to accede to a request to guarantee Sunday base ball if two of the three towns, mentioned as possible entrants, were submitted. Cumberland, Piedmont, and Frostburg were all represented but, when told that no games would be scheduled for Sunday, put in no application.

The former motion, passed several weeks ago and still in effect, would have allowed scheduled games to be moved forward to Sunday but none of the representatives of the towns in the league last year would guarantee that they would consent to such change when the time came, and the applications were not presented.

The work of arranging for the season with last year's members will now proceed and the tight little circuit will have the same amount of fun and a better quality of ball play.

TEAM WON FIRST GAME OF SERIES

Another Victory Added to Long List Annexed by College Boys. Various Items of Interest from the Campus.

The Gettysburg College basketball team continued its victorious march Thursday evening by winning from Albright at Myerstown 40-26. The fast work of the Gettysburg forwards was too much for the Albright lads and the foul shooting again contributed materially to the score. This evening the team plays at Muhlenberg, and on Saturday evening at Harrisburg.

Arrangements have been made to handle a large number of persons at the Lincoln program in Phrena Hall this evening. The room is located in the south end, third floor, of Glatfelter Hall and the people of town are invited to attend. Dr. Bikle and George J. Benner Esq. will make the principal addresses.

The first stones for the foundation of the chemical laboratory extension are now on the ground, and work will be started as soon as convenient. The brick work on the new Gettysburg Academy building has been completed to the top of the first floor.

Next week will be observed as Junior week at the college. The basketball game with Bucknell will be played on Friday afternoon, and in the evening will be given the Junior Promenade. Saturday evening the attraction will be the Sophomore class play "She Stoops to Conquer." The cast has been training for some weeks.

The next number of the Y. M. C. A. entertainment course at college will be the Beulah Buck Concert Company, which is scheduled to appear in Brua Chapel on the evening of Thursday, February 17th. On Wednesday evening, February 16, Prof. B. F. Schappelle will give his illustrated lecture on "Northern Spain" as one of the five course.

Coch Plank expects to get his candidates into trim for early work out of doors and the base ball cage will be a busy place during the coming weeks. The fact that the Princeton game opens the season next month will mean that there can be no delay in getting out for the early spring practices.

The college orchestra has had a busy time of it this week, playing every night at the theatre while some of its members have also been required for work at dances.

CLEARED $50.00

Good Time and a Profitable Financial Venture, too.

In every way the old fashioned dance in Xavier Hall Thursday evening was a success. The sum of $50.00 was cleared for the maintenance of the Kurtz Playground. This was made possible by the fact that no rental was charged for the hall, and the only expenses incurred were for heat, light, and some of the refreshments. Others were donated.

The dance was largely attended. A grand march, lancers, two steps, waltzes, and the schottische were executed with the grace that characterized them in years gone by. Every one had a delightful evening, so much so in fact that another similar dance will be held during the week of February 22.

GIRL POSED FOR YEARS AS YOUTH

And is now Sent to Penitentiary for being Implicated in Robberies. Stiff Sentence by Young Judge Sadler.

Cora Dayton, of Boiling Springs, the girl who for a number of years wore male attire and passed off as a boy, was one of a trio convicted in the Cumberland County courts of stealing copper wire from the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company, and she and her companions all were sentenced to the penitentiary Thursday by Judge Sylvester B. Sadler, for terms of not less than five years and now more than six years.

Edward Windowmaker and George Geesey were the Dayton girl's companions. The trio lived in Boiling Springs. They were suspected of being the band of crooks that had been doing much stealing in that section during the last year.

Judge Sadler sentenced eleven defendants Thursday morning and he expressed the belief that seven of the criminals were "schooled in the penitentiary."

William Priestly and James Evans were sent to a reformatory and Harry Hughes got six months on charges of stealing rubber. David Wilson, Harrisburg, got a year for striking David Lewis. Wilson got a two to ten year penitentiary term from Judge Kunkel in the Dauphin county courts in 1913.

Asa Thunder and William Thomas ninety days each for assaulting an Indian student and Albert Snell got sixty days on an assault and battery charge.

George Heard, convicted of stealing $170 from J. H. Morrett, of Mechanicsburg, was sent to the penitentiary for a term of from two to four years.

BRILLIANT PLANETS

Venus and Jupiter One-Fourth Degree Apart February 13.

The two planets, Venus and Jupiter, which for some weeks have been visible at evening in the western sky, will be in conjunction on the evening of February 13, Sunday next, when they will be only four-tenths of a degree apart, and will form a very striking spectacle on account of their great brilliancy. Venus appears much brighter and larger than Jupiter to the naked eye, although the latter planet has about eleven times the diameter and many times the bulk of the planet Venus. But Venus is much nearer the Earth. It is about sixty-seven million miles from the sun, and Jupiter is about four hundred and sixty million miles from the sun. This would place Venus about thirty million miles away from the Earth, while Jupiter's distance from our globe is about three hundred and sixty-seven million miles.

WANT COLD WEATHER

Natural Ice Famine, it is Said, Threatens Carlisle.

If Carlisle is to escape a natural ice famine during the summer of 1916, cold weather will have to come right soon. At the Laurel dam, above Mt. Holly Springs, Carlisle's source of ice supply, the ice at the present time is but two inches thick, and it will take considerable cold weather to get the ice to the proper thickness.

It is said that now the manufacturing of ice is being rushed as enough cannot be made to supply the demand. Ice is being cut at only two points in Pennsylvania, and both of these places are north of Wilkes-Barre.

ONE BANK IS SUING ANOTHER

Dillsburg and Harrisburg Financial Institutions are at Odds over Account. Now before the Courts.

A suit has been filed by the Union Trust company, of Harrisburg, against the Farmers & Merchants bank, of Dillsburg, to recover $2,695.97. This sum is the balance alleged to be due on a mutual account between the two banks.

After the hearing of testimony had begun the plaintiff moved to amend the statement of claim. The York County court allowed the amendment, which operated to continue the case in order to give the defendant an opportunity to prepare to defend against the amended statement.

Both banks had an understanding whereby the Harrisburg institution agreed to collect the Dillsburg bank's checks of Harrisburg, while the Dillsburg bank agreed to do the same with the Harrisburg bank's checks on all the Dillsburg banks. This agreement was in force for about four years and for the period from Sept. 18, 1914, to Feb. 24, 1915, the account is said to show a balance due the Harrisburg bank of $2,695.97. The Dillsburg bank disputes this, but admits that it owes the Harrisburg bank $195.97.

The controversy arises over two checks drawn on the Dillsburg bank by one maker aggregating $2,500, which the Harrisburg bank paid and sent to Dillsburg, but which the latter refused to honor.

MRS. HARRY S. STARNER

Funeral in New Oxford Church Saturday Morning.

From typhoid fever and complications Mrs. Emma Starnier, wife of Harry S. Starnier, died at her home in New Oxford Thursday afternoon about five o'clock aged about 50 years. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Staub, Berlin Junction. Her father is dead and her mother, 87 years of age, is in a serious condition suffering with a broken leg.

She leaves her husband and the following children, Morris Starnier and Leo Starnier, New Oxford; Miss Catherine Starnier, Harrisburg, and Misses Magdalene, Beatrice and Mary Starnier, at home. She also leaves these brothers and sisters, Leo S. Staub and James Staub, Berlin Junction; William Staub, Hanover, and Mrs. J. S. Weaver, New Oxford.

LEG AMPUTATED

First Frozen, then Burned, Say Hospital Surgeons.

John H. Cromer, of Granite Hill, who was found at a lime kiln near Frederick one day last week with his one side badly burned, has since had a portion of one of his legs amputated at the Frederick hospital. It is said that Cromer's leg was frozen before it was burned at the lime kiln. C. H. Wilson has a warrant for his arrest on a charge of larceny, but it will be some weeks before the man will be able to leave the hospital.

GARRISON QUILTS WILSON'S CABINET

War Secretary and His Assistant Resign.

DISAGREE OVER POLICIES

Disapproves Dropping Continental Army Plan and Withdrawal From the Philippine Islands.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Lindley M. Garrison, secretary of war, tendered his resignation to President Wilson and it was accepted.

Refusal of the president to insist upon acceptance of the continental army plan, generally opposed in congress, and Garrison's disapproval of the Philippine independence bill as it passed the senate, are understood to have been responsible for his decision to quit the cabinet.

President Wilson accepted the resignation and a formal announcement is expected without delay.

The resignation of Henry C. Breckinridge, assistant secretary of war, was also announced, he following his chief in his attitude toward military policies.

Secretary Garrison stood firm in his advocacy of the "Continental Army" as a means of national defense.

The president took the position he could not dictate details of an army plan to congress.

He conferred with Republican members of the house military committee, who informed him that Democrats and Republicans alike on the committee were opposed to the continental army scheme, and that it had no chance of being approved.

Garrison would not admit that there properly could be modifications on the plan.

As for the Philippine bill, passed by the senate recently, it is understood to have been another reason for Secretary Garrison's decision. He objected strongly to the Clarke amendment incorporated in the Philippine bill providing for independence for the islands within from two to four years.

Garrison is said to have determined to quit the cabinet when it became apparent that his continental army plan would not meet with the approval of congress.

Reports of the resignation were circulated after the secretary had announced he would not deliver an address on national defense before the chamber of commerce of the United States, as had been expected.

Immediately afterward, however, he and Mrs. Garrison departed for New York, and it was said at the war office it would be for an indefinite stay.

President Wilson has supported the "continental" army scheme, and continues to believe it is the best plan for strengthening the army. He has made it plain, however, in speeches and in talks with congressional leaders, that the main thing is to get a large reserve for the United States army and that the details must be worked out through "common counsel."

The president and Secretary Garrison have been close personal friends since the administration came into office, and have stood together on practically every question.

PRESIDENT TO STAY ON JOB

Will Not Make Another Trip, He Tells Callers.

Washington, Feb. 11.—President Wilson has finally given up the idea of making an extended southern trip to speak for preparedness.

He told senators and representatives who invited him to various cities that he might later make a few speeches, but at present would not make another trip.

The president has concluded he is needed in Washington to keep in touch with the army and navy bills and other legislation. Whenever possible, however, he will accept invitations to make visits to cities which will not keep him away from Washington long.

Hears Raider is Blown Up.

New York, Feb. 11.—That a German raider has been blown up by a mine or an internal explosion of the French coast was the rumor brought to port by the French steamship Touraine. As the vessel was steaming out of Bordeaux, it received a report that a raider had been destroyed the previous day. The report was not confirmed.

U-Boats Can Go 7000 Miles.

The Hague, Feb. 11.—Three super-submarines, superior in speed to any water craft heretofore built by any nation, have just been finished by German workmen at Kiel, according to reports that reached Dutch naval officials. Each is said to carry a crew of sixty men and seven torpedo tubes, and to be able to travel 7000 miles without replenishing fuel.

New Armenian Butcheries.

Geneva, Feb. 11.—Another massacre of Armenians by Turks is under way, according to advices to Geneva and Bern newspapers. Men and boys are being killed in batches, while many young women and girls are being carried off to Constantinople, where they are sold as slaves.

RUSSIANS BEAT BACK ENEMY IN GALICIA

Muscovites Cross Dniester and Threaten Czernowitz.

London, Feb. 11.—Significance is attached by Russian military commentators to the new offensive movement of Russian troops in Eastern Galicia, just north of the Bukovina boundary, which is reported officially from Petrograd to have resulted in the capture of Usciecko, and the crossing of the Dniester at that point.

Reuter's Petrograd correspondent says the opinion is expressed that if the Russians continue their movement they will threaten all of the Austro-German positions in the district of Czernowitz, capital of Bukovina, which lies to the south.

According to prisoners, the correspondent says, the desperate defense of Czernowitz by the Teutonic forces, which has cost them large losses, was dictated by political rather than strategic considerations, an order having been issued to the troops declaring that the fall of Czernowitz would cause the immediate adherence of Rumania to the allies.

Owing to the flooding of the Oginski canal on account of a sudden thaw, the Germans have been compelled to evacuate all of their second line trenches in that district, losing large quantities of ammunition.

AIR RAIDERS KILL 200 TURKS

French Squadron Defeats Opposing German Craft.

Athens, Feb. 11.—Two hundred Turkish soldiers were killed, scores wounded, three military warehouses burned and two ships sunk by French aviators who made an attack on Smyrna.

The aeroplanes rose from warships off the coast of Asia Minor and appeared above Smyrna just after sunrise. Fire from anti-aircraft guns was immediately opened upon the fliers, and two German aeroplanes rose to meet them. The French aviators routed their aerial opponents in a conflict lasting only a few moments.

Four bombs were then dropped upon a group of buildings in which supplies for the Turkish troops were stored. Three of these caught fire and burned rapidly. Two bombs smashed a section of the Ottoman barracks, killing or wounding all the soldiers there.

BEER FAMINE IN MERCER

Dispensaries Closed Temporarily Pending Ruling of Court.

Sharon, Pa., Feb. 11.—Mercer county automatically became dry when liquor licenses granted one year ago expired.

Two breweries, ten wholesale establishments and about thirty saloons were closed. License court was held this week, but Judge J. A. McLaughry did not indicate when he would hand down his decision.

There was a beer famine in Sharon and Farrell as a result of wholesalers and breweries being unable to fill the avalanche of orders.

$1,000,000 Necklace Imported.

New York, Feb. 11.—What was said by experts to be the finest string of pearls in the world with the possible exception of a few held by native princes of India, has been entered at the custom house. The fifty gems in the necklace were valued at $1,000,000, and it was believed might sell for more than that. The necklace was imported from Paris by a firm of Fifth avenue jewelers.

Prince Oscar Quits Army.

Amsterdam, Feb. 11.—German newspapers say that Prince Oscar's wounds recently received in the eastern war theatre are not serious, but that as he suffers from a weak heart, he will not be able to take further part in the war.

WILL ATTACK ARMED LINERS

Germany to Treat Them as Vessels of War After March 1.

BERLIN WARNS WASHINGTON

Kaiser's Government Declares British Captains Were Ordered to Sink Submarines.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Germany and Austria, through their embassies, have notified the United States of their intention to treat armed merchantmen as warships after March 1.

That date was fixed to give the entente allies time to signify their intention toward the recent note of the United States proposing the disarmament of all merchantmen.

Germany contends this measure is justified by explicit instructions issued by the British admiralty to merchantmen, a copy of which is said to have been obtained by the German authorities. These instructions, it is understood, are that the merchantmen should carry guns and attack submarines on sight.

The notification of the German powers, while delivered orally, was formal, and it was said that because of difficulties of communication with the United States, formal notice in writing will be delivered to the American embassies in Vienna and Berlin.

The United States recently proposed to the belligerents that the development of submarine warfare had made it desirable to agree that merchant ships should be absolutely unarmed—disarming even the small calibre guns which they have heretofore been permitted to carry for defence.

The memorandum went forward by mail two weeks ago. No replies were expected inside of six weeks. The proposal was based on the theory that no merchant ships of the German powers and none of their commerce destroyers except submarines were at sea.

The Appam case, which disclosed a German merchant raider at large, changed the situation materially, and the status of the American proposal is in doubt.

Attached to the memorandum are several appendices. The first is the declaration in the house of commons on March 26, 1912, of Winston Spencer Churchill, then first lord of the British admiralty.

The second refers to the communication of Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British ambassador at Washington, to William J. Bryan, then secretary of state, August 25, 1914, as appearing in the diplomatic correspondence of the state department.

The third appendix is the German declaration of October 13, 1914, regarding the treatment of armed merchantmen. The fourth gives details in nineteen cases, dating from April 11, 1915, to January 17, 1916, in which merchant vessels' mostly unidentified, opened fire on German submarines, specific details being given in each instance.

SLASHES WIFE AND BABY

Man Cuts Their Throats and Then Disappears.

Vineyard, N. J., Feb. 11.—Returning to his home on the state road, east of Malaga, Ignatius Barra attempted to murder his wife and twelve-year-old daughter by cutting their throats.

Mrs. Barra was approached from behind by her husband, who grasped her by the head and drew the knife across her throat. She broke away from him and ran screaming to the home of a neighbor.

Those who accompanied her back to the house found the infant on the floor in a pool of blood with its throat cut. The husband was nowhere to be found, and searchers are scouring the Atlantic county woods for him. It is believed that Barra has sought a secluded spot to kill himself, he having attempted suicide upon a previous occasion.

Explosion in Chemical Plant.

Elizabeth, N. J., Feb. 11.—An explosion destroyed a wing of the Midvale Chemical company's plant in this city. The loss is estimated at $30,000. M. J. Wallace, who gave his address as Chicago, was arrested as he walked from the burning building. The police are investigating his presence in this city. Officials say the company has no war contracts.

Rolling Mill to Open.

Kittanning, Pa., Feb. 11.—After being closed for three years, the rolling mill of the Kittanning Iron and Steel company will be reopened February 21. Three hundred and fifty men will be given employment, orders sufficient to keep the plant in operation for a long period having been booked.

Motor Receipts Will Exceed $2,000,000.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 11.—Receipts of the automobile division of the state highway department up to and including February 9, for 1916, are $1,201,709. The total receipts for the year 1914 were $1,184,646.50. It is expected that the receipts for 1916 will exceed $2,000,000.

King Alfonso has established in Madrid a bureau of which he is personally the head to obtain information concerning the fates of soldier husbands, brothers and sweethearts whose names appear in casualty lists. Inquiries from any belligerent country may be made, and the embassies and legations of the Spanish government are ordered to obtain the information.

BOILER EXPLODES; FOUR ARE KILLED

Three Others Injured When Sawmill is Destroyed.

Salisbury, Md., Feb. 11.—A terrific explosion occurred, one mile west of Athol, when the 50-horse power boiler in the sawmill of Graham & Hurley blew up, killing outright William Phillips, Emory Coulbourn, colored, Webster Robinson and Charles Seabreeze, and seriously injuring John Seabreeze, Bradley Seabreeze and Staton Evans, the latter having both arms and limbs broken.

John Seabreeze had both arms broken and was hurt internally, and Bradley Seabreeze had both legs broken and was cut about the body.

None of the men escaped injury, except those at work piling lumber. Phillip Robinson and Coulbourn were close to the boiler when it blew up. Evans was driving a mule team 100 feet away and the force of the explosion overturned the wagon on him, pinning him against a tree stump. Debris struck the mules, breaking both legs of one and bruising the other.

Charles Seabreeze, sixteen years old was warming himself at the fire box, near the boiler, when the explosion occurred. He was blown seventy-five feet.

The boiler was blown 150 feet from the mill. The foundation, roofing and every part of the mill was laid bare, and bricks were found several hundred yards away.

WOMAN DIES AT RECEPTION

Mrs. J. E. Kuhn Stricke While Aiding Secretary Garrison's Wife.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Mrs. Joseph E. Kuhn, wife of Colonel Kuhn, American military attaché at Berlin, died Wednesday night, at the home of Secretary Garrison, after a stroke of apoplexy.

Mrs. Kuhn had been in the receiving line at a reception with Mrs. Garrison. She was suddenly taken ill and died soon afterward.

Mrs. Kuhn was standing at the side of Mrs. Garrison, receiving guests, when she suddenly collapsed and fell. A physician, one of the guests, attended her, but only temporary relief was possible, and she died a few minutes later. Examination revealed an artery in her head had burst.

MORGAN GOES ABROAD TO ARRANGE A FRENCH LOAN

Wall Street Thinks That Bonds Will Be Sold in This Country.

The purpose of J. P. Morgan's departure for Europe is the negotiation of a new French loan of between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000, based on the sale of French government bonds.

Mr. Morgan was accompanied by John F. Harris of the Stock Exchange firm of Harris Wintthrop & Co. Another visitor to Europe is Benjamin Strong, Jr., governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. It is said that the two financiers do not have a common mission, but that Mr. Strong is going abroad to look over the ground for the possible establishment of branches of the Federal Reserve bank in Europe and to familiarize himself with the financial situation with a view of extending further credits to Great Britain.

Wall street is inclined to discredit the firm's explanation of Mr. Morgan's trip that he was going primarily for a rest and for the sake of his health. His sailing for Europe at a time when heavy gales add to the dangers from submarine and floating mines convinced financiers that the situation abroad presented problems that demanded the presence of the head of America's biggest banking house.

The proposed loan was understood to be an offering of French government bonds in this country rather than a credit based on a purely banking arrangement. The bonds will run from three to five years. What interest rate the French bonds will bear is not known, but it is believed that the interest will be higher than the 5 per cent return on the Anglo-French bonds.

These bonds will not only have the credit of the French government back of them, but will be secured by collateral, part of which may be American railroad securities of high grade. The loan will not be assailable by those who criticised the Anglo-French loan on the ground that it had back of it no other security than the credit of Great Britain and France. Part of the collateral offered by the French government as security for the loan may be the securities of other European governments, of which France holds large amounts.

France and French bankers have already borrowed about $120,000,000 in this country in addition to France's share of the Anglo-French loan, which is understood to be $250,000,000. In most cases, however, the financing was purely of a banking nature in that no bonds were offered for sale.

PUBLIC IS BEHIND CHILD LABOR BILL

Measure Has Excellent Chance of Becoming Law.

SENTIMENT CHIEF SUPPORT

When Senator Beveridge First Advocated the Measure He Was Laughed at and Called a Sentimentalist, but Time and Progressiveness Have Changed All This.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Feb. 11.—[Special.]—Public sentiment finds a way when it gets behind a real progressive measure. I do not mean that feeling or mercurial public sentiment which flashes for a moment, and then disappears, but a real public sentiment for a great cause.

The statement applies to the child labor bill. I well remember when Senator Beveridge of Indiana made his great and gallant fight for a child labor law he was laughed at by the "elder statesmen." He was regarded as a visionary young man or a sensationalist seeking a "place in the sun."

But there was a real sentiment behind the child labor legislation. It was shown in the tremendous majority by which the bill passed the house.

Delay Beneficial.

At the same time it is a good thing that this measure was delayed. At the time Beveridge was making his great fight for child labor restriction most of the solid lawyers in the senate believed such a bill was unconstitutional. Passed at that time the supreme court might have thought the same way. But time changes the views of the court as well as of the legislature. If the great lawyers in congress have changed their minds about the constitutionality of such legislation why is it not likely that the court has also changed? The probabilities are that the legislation will stand the test.

It is possible, but not probable that the bill may be held up in the senate. The advocates of the bill do not intend to have it smothered if they can help it.

Fitzgerald and Economy.

It is possible that Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee will not rail about extravagant expenditures during this session.

"Where's the use?" he asked. "They want to spend money and they will spend it. I am for preparedness and will vote for large expenditures just the same as the other fellows."

Fitzgerald, like Jim Mann, has at all times opposed large appropriations for military purposes, but he is going with the crowd now.

"A Republican administration could not put over a big military program," was one remark made to the New York congressman.

"Oh, yes, it could," was Fitzgerald's reply. "The Republicans could get forty votes on our side the way the Democrats get theirs."

Juggling With Pairs.

On many occasions measures have been defeated by juggling with pairs. The Clark amendment to the Philippine bill, carried by the vote of the vice president, came near being defeated by mistakes about pairs. It finally turned out that two Democrats were absent and unpaired. If pairs had been arranged for them the vote for free Filipinos would have been larger.

"How Doth the Busy Bee."

Senator Newlands wanted the government to let no another ten million for educating the Filipinos just as a parting gift. In the course of his argument he said, "In that climate no one wants to work." Then he was interrupted by Senator Lang of Oregon with the remark:

"The senator is quite right. In that climate very few people want to work. It has been noticed that the honeybees, when transferred to that country will stop laying up honey the second year he goes on strike."

The President's Speeches.

Congressman Foster of Illinois asked to have the speeches of the president made on his western trip printed as a public document.

"If the Democratic members will read them I am in favor of printing them," said Minority Leader Mann, who backs the president's preparedness program. "I have no objection to printing these speeches," said Mondell of Wyoming who opposes large military expenditures. "I think they will make an excellent document on the other side of the question."

Rivers In Champ's District.

Concluding his speech in favor of a flood control committee Speaker Clark said that his district was bordered by the Mississippi, split wide open by the Missouri, with four other rivers made navigable by act of congress. That last remark caused amusement for "navigation by act of congress" means river and harbor appropriations.

Gallinger's Position.

A vote was about to be taken on one of the amendments to the Philippine bill. Several congressmen took the floor to explain their votes. Finally Senator Gallinger was recognized and said:

"I will vote against the amendment without explanation."

TELLS OF LEAVING L-19 CREW TO DIE

British Skipper Refused to Rescue Germans In Distress.

OUTNUMBERED THREE TO ONE

Fearful That if He Took the Thirty Members of Zeppelin Aboard They Would Seize Vessel—Another Story of Fight With Submarine in Mediterranean.

The London Daily Mail publishes the narrative of William Martin, skipper of the trawler which found the sinking Zeppelin L-19. Captain Martin says that when the trawler approached the Zeppelin's commander offered him $25 if he would send a boat.

"He was a gentleman and behaved as one. He was nice and polite. He spoke good English too. I thought a bit and then said:

"Well, if there wasn't so many of you I would take you off, but there's too many."

"The officer straightened himself up and said:

"There is nothing in that."

"I thought again and said:

"But suppose we take you and you sling us overboard and navigate the trawler to Germany. That will be another decoration for you, but it won't be much for us."

"He said, 'I pledge you my word we will not do anything of the kind.'"

"He took his dying oath he would not interfere with us and I could have plenty of money if I saved him."

"I took another thought. They were thirty, and we were nine. They were armed, and we had not as much as a pistol aboard, and I would not take the risk. If there had been another ship standing by to help me I could have changed it, but there was nothing in sight."

"I ought to tell you that I could see three iron crosses painted on the Zeppelin on one side and one underneath the wooden nose, which was tilted up. I suppose they were for some daring deed, and I did not want me and my crew to be part of a fourth."

"As we drew away some of the German crew at first shouted 'Mercy! Mercy! Save us!' and then shook their fists at us as they saw it was no use."

"In peace times of course I would have had all the Germans aboard in two ticks."

Another Tale of the Sea.

Captain Hughes of the British steamer Woodfield, which made a game three hours' fight against a German submarine in the Mediterranean sea before it finally surrendered with eight killed and fourteen wounded, has told the story of his fight.

The Woodfield was voyaging from Avonmouth to the Levant under sealed orders. She carried an army service corps besides her crew and a government cargo. The steamer was sunk forty miles east of Gibraltar.

Submarine Finds Range.

"About 7 in the morning," said the captain, who was himself wounded in the fight, "a German submarine appeared, powerfully armed and not showing any number. She opened fire. Her first shot fell short. Her second went over us. Then she found the range, and a succession of shells struck us. Our gun was manned, but it was entirely out of range, and the submarine kept clear, although if she had come nearer we could have sunk her."

"This fight continued for three hours, the submarine all the time keeping out of range, while we tried to make Gibraltar. We found it impossible to maintain full speed, as the Arab firemen quit the stokehold and rushed to the decks, adding to the difficulties."

"After three hours I realized that escape was hopeless. Already eight were killed and fourteen wounded, seven of the dead and eight of the injured being soldiers. Once in the struggle, too, the British ensign had been shot away. It was quickly replaced by the sailors."

"When I found that the shells had made a number of bad holes in the ship and she was sinking fast I ordered the boats to be lowered. All the survivors got away in four boats, with the exception of two gunners and myself. We left the Woodfield last on a small raft. Finding that this would not support us and one gunner being badly wounded, I jumped off to swim to one of the lifeboats. It was then for the first time that I felt my wounds."

Pirates Capture Survivors.

"Once we got away the submarine rapidly closed in on the Woodfield and torpedoed and sank her. She went down about 10 in the morning. Fourteen hours later the captain and three of the boat's crew reached Penon the island of Penon de la Gomera, off the Moroccan coast. Another boat reached Albuera, and the other, containing nine soldiers and three sailors, was captured by Moorish pirates."

"The sailors escaped on a French fishing boat and reached Oran. The stories there were much surprised to hear them say 'Parlez-vous,' which was the only French they knew. The soldiers were ransomed later at $1,000 each. Others of the crew were interned at Malaga and escaped by stowing away in the steamer Eastland."

PAINS OFTEN MEAN URIC ACID POISON

Pay Attention to Pains—Rheumatism May Cripple You Permanently.

Ouch! Does it hurt you to move your arms, legs, bend your back or stretch your muscles? Be careful and take heed in time. Rheumatism is stealing on you and may cripple you if you don't stop uric acid from settling in your veins and muscles.

Rheuma, a great specialist's prescription, chases this poison out of the system and gives relief from all forms of Rheumatism. It acts through the seat of the trouble, the kidneys, stops the formation of uric acid, then drives out through the bowels that which is in the blood.

Genuine Rheuma (set that you get the trade-marked package) is sold by The People's Drug Store and all druggists for 50 cents. Money back if not satisfied.

BELGIANS HAVE A KUKLUX KLAN

Escaping Official Says Germans Can't Cope With It.

SPY EXECUTED BY MEMBER.

Papers Seized by Natives Reveal Work of Invader—Heavy Fine Imposed on City Where German Was Killed—Organization Has Newspaper Organ That Can't Be Suppressed.

An official of the Belgian government who has escaped from Brussels through the German lines by the "underground railway" and has just arrived at The Hague tells some startling stories of the mysterious undercurrents by which Belgians are constantly undermining the German military authorities in Belgium.

According to this official, a great Belgian secret society, avowedly terrorist in its plans and methods and patterned after the famous KKK, which existed in the southern states in the years after the American civil war, was organized some months ago and is constantly increasing its scope and activities, which have already succeeded in causing the German authorities much trouble.

This society is believed to have been responsible for the death of Cels Derode, the German spy who betrayed Miss Edith Cavell and who recently was shot down by an unidentified hand. The German authorities have arrested two men, a barber and an electrician, for the murder, but are said to have no real clue to its perpetrators.

Has Newspaper Organ.

The famous newspaper, Free Belgium, which is published regularly under the name of the German officials despite all their efforts to suppress it, is supposed to be the organ of the secret society. It has stated that the death of Derode cost but one franc and that many more francs will be available for similar work.

The only reply which General von Bissing has yet been able to make for the death of his spy has been the levying of a fine of 500,000 marks (about $120,000) on the city of Brussels. It had previously been reported that this fine was levied because Derode was shot by an unlicensed revolver. The escaped Belgian official gives a different version of the affair.

It appears from his statement that after Derode had been killed a Belgian citizen's spirit was the first authoritative body to appear on the scene, arriving some time before any representative of the German authorities.

The court seized all Derode's papers and examined them. These papers revealed all Derode's spying activities and included reports of payments to him by the German authorities.

The Belgian officials refused to surrender these papers when General von Bissing demanded them, and for this reason General von Bissing fined the municipality.

That Boy

You've got to have faith in that boy. And to show him the faith that you feel. That you know beneath all his adroitness, in the metal that's honest and real. You've got to let him trust in you. As you trust in him day by day. You've got to have faith in that boy. If you want him to go the right way. You hear them cry out now and then. That their boy won't amount to a thing. And he won't—in this wide world of men. You've got to give him the right ring. You've got to make him feel that you. Feel firmly and truly his worth. That you know he will put things right through. That he showed the right will at his birth.

You can't trust a boy to do right. If you don't let him see that you trust. You can't be to him like a light. If you hide all your faith in the dust. He needs such a faith as will shine. As will show and make plain over his path. That he'll win; that he's starting out true. That he'll triumph over evil and with.

The Kitchen GUPBOARD

THE CAKE BOX.

MARSHMALLOW CAKE.—Beat two-thirds of a cupful of butter to a cream; gradually beat in one and three-quarters of a cupful of fine granulated sugar; sift together three and one-third cupfuls of pastry flour and two tablespoonfuls of baking powder. Add to the first mixture after nately with half a cupful each of milk and water. Add the whites of five eggs, beaten dry, and a teaspoonful of vanilla or the grated rind of half a lemon. Bake in two layers or a large round poundcake dish. Bake in a slow oven.

Yum Yum Cake.—One package of raisins, two tablespoonfuls of lard, one cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful each of cassia and nutmeg, two and one-half cupfuls of hot water. Boil five minutes and then cool. Add three level cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of soda, one-half teaspoonful of cream of tartar and one teaspoonful of salt. Bake in a moderate oven. This is good for a pudding by omitting lard and steaming two hours.

Pound Cake.—One-quarter pound of butter, one and one-half cupfuls of flour, one scant teaspoonful of baking powder, pinch of salt together, five eggs, leave out one white for frosting, one and one-half cupfuls of powdered sugar, eggs and sugar together; flour worked into batter. Flavor with vanilla.

Chocolate Jelly Cake.—One-half cupful of butter, two cupfuls of sugar, three cupfuls of flour, one cupful of milk, four eggs. Cream butter, sugar, eggs and milk, then sift in flour and two tablespoonfuls of baking powder. Bake in jelly cake tins.

Pork Cake.—One pound of pork (salt and fat), chopped fine; three cupfuls of boiling water, three cupfuls of molasses, two cupfuls of sugar, three spoonfuls of soda, two pounds of raisins, two spoonfuls each of cloves, nutmeg and cinnamon. Make quite stiff with flour. Makes three large loaves of fine grained cake.

Cream Cake.—Break two eggs in a cup, fill with cream; one cupful of sugar; beat until the sugar is dissolved; one and one-half cupfuls of pastry flour, sifted, with two spoonfuls of baking powder, a little salt and flavoring to suit the taste. Bake twenty minutes in a hot oven.

HERE'S NATURE'S OWN REMEDY FOR CATARRH

Hyomei Relieves Catarrh Without the Use of Dangerous Drugs.

Not until Hyomei was discovered has it been possible to truthfully say that a "real remedy for catarrh" was known.

Hyomei is an oil "ant" for air is breathed through a small inhaler furnished with it for a few minutes a day, and during that time every particle of this Hyomei-laden air taken into the air passages and lungs is impregnated with a powerful germ killing and health-giving antiseptic.

Sprays and lotions often cause disorders of the respiratory tracts or gring on some other diseases and never make a permanent cure of catarrh. But when the air of Hyomei penetrates to the innermost cells of the organs and enters the blood, with the oxygen it not only kills the germs in the throat and nose, but kills the bacilli in the blood, freeing the nucleus membranes from poisonous microbes and giving perfect health.

A complete outfit is inexpensive and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks treatment.

The People's Drug Store have so much faith in the merit of Hyomei that they agree to return the money to any purchaser who is not thoroughly satisfied.

Maxwell Motor Cars

PAY AS YOU RIDE for your automobile while you use it. you pay for a piano, or real estate. get the full benefit of motoring, and without any inconvenience to your bank account.

This Is My Plan

An automobile today is a necessity. It no longer represents an expenditure that only a few can afford. And I don't see why a necessity should not be sold on a basis that will appeal to even the man of moderate means.

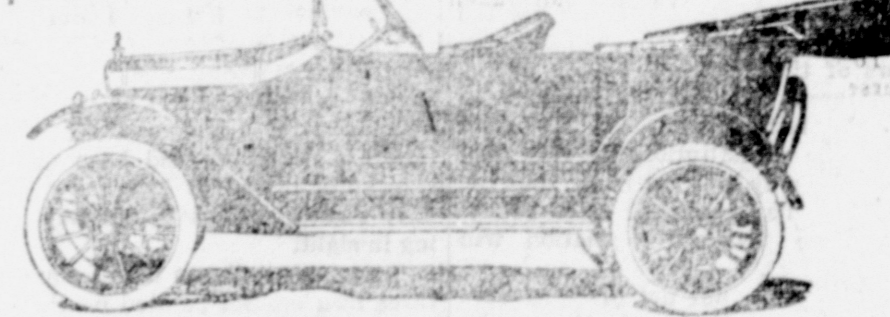

An enormous factory production of 100,000 Maxwells this year, 1916, makes possible a price of $655 for this beautiful, powerful, dependable, completely-equipped Maxwell automobile.

On my "Pay-As-You-Ride" plan, this $655 can be paid as you use the car. It is a simple, liberal plan that you will appreciate.

Let me tell you more about it.

FIGHT NIGHT AND DAY IN FRANCE

French Repulse a German Attack in Artois.

BERLIN ANNOUNCES GAINS

Regain Mine Crater on Vimy Line and Capture Trenches in a Terrific Battle.

London, Feb. 11.—The great battle around Arras, in northern France, continues with infantry attack and counter attack mingling with mighty artillery duels. Fighting is continuous night and day.

One report reaching London says the German losses in the fighting about Vimy and along the Somme, in this region, have totalled 60,000 men in ten days.

A strong night attack by the Germans along the road between Neuville St. Vaast and La Folle was repulsed by the French. It was announced by French war office, which also stated that the Germans were thrown out of communicating trenches west of La Folle.

The statement says: "In Artois, the artillery duel has continued from Hill No. 119 as far as the road from Neuville to Thelus. A conflict with hand grenades enabled us to drive the enemy from some communicating trenches occupied by him to the west of La Folle.

"Since nightfall the Germans have directed upon our positions on the road from Neuville to La Folle a severe attack which has thus far been repulsed. The enemy was able to gain a foothold only on the one crater which we had previously had taken from him.

"To the south of the Somme, in the course of action we took fifty prisoners and captured two rapid-fire guns and a revolver cannon."

Further success for the German troops is announced in the report from German headquarters, the report saying:

"Northwest of Vimy we captured a large trench section from the French, and in the neighborhood of Neuville we conquered one of the craters previously lost. Fifty-two prisoners and twenty-two machine guns remained in our hands.

"South of the Somme several local attacks by the French were repulsed. Directly north of Bequincourt the enemy succeeded in obtaining a foothold in a small section of our front line trenches.

"On Combes Hill we destroyed an enemy mine position by an explosion. A French mining operation north-east of Celles, in the Vosges, was unsuccessful."

In some quarters the recent German assaults in the Artois region are regarded as primarily defensive operations, designed to win back commanding positions which would give the entire forces an advantage in any forward movement they may attempt in the future.

It is persistently reported, however, that the Germans are on the point of launching a determined offensive in northern France and Belgium, in which case the operations in the present area of activity would have an important bearing.

TELLS OF MURDER IN SIGNS

Deaf Mute Only Witness to Killing of Man and Wife.

Independence, Ky., Feb. 11.—Telling his story as best he could by signs, Harry England, a deaf mute, conveyed to another deaf mute the information that Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sagers were murdered at their home near here by a man with a mustache and that this man had thrown rocks at him before escaping toward the railroad. The bodies of the man and woman were found with bullet holes through their heads late Tuesday night.

A coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the Sagers were killed "by a person unknown to the jury."

Sunday Hearings Illegal.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 11.—Hearings held before a bureau on Sundays are illegal, according to an opinion handed down by Judge Charles E. McKeena in Allegheny county court. The decision was in the case of a railroad detective who was arrested as he was about to arrest an alleged trespasser, and who was fined by a bureau who heard the case on Sunday.

Find Bones of Men Entombed in 1876.

Hazleton, Pa., Feb. 11.—Miners at work in the Harligg workings of the G. B. Markle Coal company, brought to light the bones of two men entombed in that mine in 1876. They were James Morhis and Joseph Pearson. The cave was very extensive, it being impossible for the company then operating the mine to rescue them or even recover the bodies. The officials are gathering the bones carefully and will turn them over to relatives.

SHOOTS THREE ON TRAIN

Wounds Wife, Mother-in-Law, Brother-in-Law and Attempts Suicide. Brownsville, Pa., Feb. 11.—On a Pennsylvania railroad coach crowded with normal school pupils, Edward Ryan, of South Brownsville, shot his wife, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Jane Shaneyfelt, and brother-in-law, John Shaneyfelt, and then attempted to end his own life while a score of girls were in a panic.

Trainmen overpowered Ryan and held him until the train reached West Brownsville, where he was turned over to the police.

Ryan and his wife separated several weeks ago, and she went to her mother's home at Fairchance. Recently the young daughter of the couple was awarded to Mrs. Ryan by the county court. Mrs. Ryan and her mother went to Fredericktown, and met John Shaneyfelt, and the three started back to Fairchance. In some way Ryan learned of his wife's presence in Fredericktown, and boarded the train at the next station. As he entered the car he started to shoot, shouting, "I'm going to kill the whole family."

He pressed the revolver against his wife's breast and pulled the trigger. She attempted to jump and the bullet entered her shoulder. Ryan turned the revolver on his mother-in-law, but before he could fire she caught it and pushed it above her head. The bullet cut off the index finger of her right hand. Shaneyfelt rose from his seat and grappled with Ryan. He was shot in the head and jumped off the train. Two shots followed him.

SAYS ARMOR MEN ARE LIKE BANDITS

Senate Naval Committee Uses Strong Language.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The senate naval committee's recommendation for a government armor plate plant voted despite notice that the armor manufacturers will raise the price $200 a ton, if Senator Tillman's bill goes through, was formally presented to the senate with the declaration that the government is being overcharged and that the sole remedy is a federal factory.

"Should the government build a plant and lock it up and never use it," the report states, "it would be wise to erect it as a warning to private manufacturers that there is a point beyond which the government will not be driven and where patience ceases to be a virtue."

The report characterizes the relations between private manufacturers and the United States since 1887 as a continual source of dissatisfaction and little short of scandalous.

"As long as present conditions continue," it says, "armor manufacturers are in a position to force the government in the language of the highwayman, to stand and deliver. Men in pursuit of wealth are essentially dishonest and greedy, and the protective principle seems to have been prolific in producing some magnificent spectacles."

All efforts of the government to bring about competition, among armor makers, the report says, have failed.

REJECT "MINE RUN" DEMAND

Western Penna. Operators Strongest Opponents of System.

Mobile, Feb. 11.—The demand of the United Mine Workers of the central competitive bituminous fields that coal be weighed before being screened and that it be paid for on a mine run basis, was voted down by the soft coal operators of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, in joint conference here with the miners.

The western Pennsylvania operators are the strongest opponents of the demands. Van Bittner, president of the western Pennsylvania miners, declared in the conference that no agreement would be written in western Pennsylvania without the mine run.

LIFE DEPENDS ON BIRDS.

Destroy Them, Says Davey, and There Will Come an Awful Horror.

Do you want to know what the one thing is that can be worse than the European war? John Davey, big brother to the birds and tree physician, Kent's (O.) arbiter of lawn and stream, has found out what it is.

Mr. Davey told an audience at a New York Y. M. C. A.: "Human life depends upon vegetation. We would all starve if vegetation ceased for a year. But vegetation depends upon the birds, who protect it from destruction by insects.

"Human life therefore depends upon the birds. All insectivorous birds in this country are decreasing 10 per cent each year. Unless we start at once to increase their numbers, to protect them and kill their enemies, within a decade will occur the disaster to humanity which I have spoken of as a catastrophic horror more awful than the European war."

Decrease in the insectivorous birds, said Mr. Davey, is due to destruction of forests, depriving birds of retreats from storms and cold and the emigration of the English sparrows, which, he said, increase almost as fast as the ten measured progeny of the cankerworm.

PENSIONS OF $1,200,000.

Yearly Amount Paid to Retired Ministers and Widows and Orphans.

The Methodist church paid $1,200,000 in pensions to retired ministers and widows and orphans of ministers during 1915, according to the annual report of Dr. Joseph B. Hingeley, secretary of the board of conference claimants, submitted at the annual meeting of the board in Chicago.

Fifteen million dollars is needed for the pension fund, Dr. Hingeley's report said, and of this amount $10,000,000 is now in the treasury of the conference.

A Close Call

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

During the administration of President Huerta of Mexico I was employed by the United States government to do certain service for the state department. I went by land, crossing the Rio Grande at Laredo and entering Coahuila. I soon fell in with a prominent leader of the rebel forces, who, after I had satisfied him that my mission was not detrimental to his interests, expressed a willingness that I should go to my destination, the City of Mexico.

"How would you like to earn some money?" asked the general.

"I would gladly earn money if I can do so without compromising my employers at Washington."

"What I have in mind would not interfere with that at all. I desire to get a message through to a certain person in the City of Mexico. As a messenger of the United States you would not be suspected. Your government has not taken sides in this matter, and there is nothing to prevent your being the bearer of a letter from me to a friend."

"But supposing I am caught with such a letter on my person?" I asked. "In that case you would be shot."

"And what would I receive for taking this risk?" He named a sum that tempted me. It seemed to me that, being in the employ of the United States government, there would be little or no risk in my bearing the general's message. I needed the sum he offered for a certain purpose and concluded to stake being shot against it.

He wrote his message on a bit of thin paper about three inches square. I was to take it to a man high in favor with President Huerta. His name and address were given me, but were not written on the message, though it was signed by a fictitious name. I decided to carry it in the upper vest pocket on the left side, my object being to have it where I could easily get it to destroy it in case I was cornered. The general paid me the money for the service I was about to render, for I was to receive it whether I succeeded in delivering the message or not.

Going southward on the general's pass I struck the Federal lines not far from the City of Mexico. I informed the commanding officer of my mission and was received by him with the courtesy due one in the United States service. Indeed, being stationed at a point where he saw no one except his officers and men he seemed pleased to see me, and since I reached his quarters in the evening he insisted on entertaining me overnight.

He proved to be an inveterate gambler, and nothing would do but that I must play cards with him. I dared not antagonize him by refusing and after the evening meal I lay down with him in his tent to play. He soon won all the cash I had provided for my journey, and I proposed to quit. He seemed inclined to play on, and I feared to refuse him. I had the money the general had given me, a roll of bills, in my pocket and was obliged to produce it.

My opponent looked at this large quantity of Mexican money with interest. He said nothing about it, but from that moment he began to talk about the difficulty of my getting on in the morning and expressed the opinion that I would be delayed. His prophecy came true, for he gave orders that no conveyance was to be furnished me.

The next morning I asked my entertainer to cash a draft on the American consul at the capital. He promised to do so, but made no move to produce the funds. His actions were so suspicious that I began to think I had better seize upon any opportunity to destroy the general's message. But I was given no opportunity. My host never left me for a moment unless there was some one else in the room. All the while he was telling me that he was endeavoring to secure conveyance for me, that he expected a team very soon, and when it came he would furnish me with money for the journey.

About 10 o'clock in the morning I saw a sergeant posting a guard about the house. My heart stood still. I was suspected, would be searched, and the message would be found on me. That meant death. The officer was looking over some military papers at a table with an unlighted cigarette between his lips. Taking a cigar from my pocket, and with a show of coolness I did not feel, I deliberately cut off the end with my penknife and asked him if he had a match. He produced one, struck it and was about to light his cigarette when, remembering politeness, he extended the match to me.

"After you," I said. He touched it to the end of his cigarette and handed it to me. I put the flame to the end of my cigar, but purposely failed to close my lips tight in order to prevent suction. When the match had burned near my fingers I took the message from my vest pocket, put one end to the flame and lit my cigar with it, taking sufficient time for it to be entirely consumed.

I saw the officer look up at me quickly, but he said nothing. Dropping the ash of the paper on the floor, I put my foot on it, rubbing it with the sole of my shoe so that it could not be traced.

I think he saw by my expression that I experienced a great relief and had made myself safe, for he permitted me to depart without further delay.
